PRICE FIVE CENTS

100,000 MARK
IN CASUALTIES
IS RECORDED

Washington, Nov. 21—(P)—The 100,000th American has been killed or wounded or is missing in Korea.

This mark is recorded and passed in the Defense Department's weekly summary of combat casualties due to be issued today. Since this official report now runs about two weeks behind the battle action, it covers 16 months of fighting.

On Nov. 9 the army estimated total enemy casualties in Korea through Oct. 31 at 1,442,844.

The summary said the latest total of United Nations casualties was 313,711.

American families have been told of some 22,000 casualties among their men since Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway first offered to talk about an armistice on June 30.

About seven out of every ten American battle losses have been suffered since the Chinese Reds poured across the Manchurian border into the ten virtually-won Korean battlefield a little more than one year ago.

The 70,000 casualties reported since the Chinese entered the war include nearly 8,000 of the 12,500 Americans listed at one time or another as missing in action. The missing figure has been reduced to a current total of around 10,800. Among these are the some 5,600 Americans reported by Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the War Crimes Section of the U. S. 8th Army in Korea, to have been killed by their captors.

Approximately half of all U. S. casualties in Korea have occurred since the bitter retreats and rear guard withdrawals of last winter and during the series of Red spring offensives and U.N. counter blows which have moved the battle back to the center of Korea.

For the Army and the Navy, the Korean conflict has been the fourth costliest in U. S. history, ranking in human casualties after World War II, the Civil War and the First World War.

Blaze In School
For Vets Children

Scotland, Nov. 21—(P)—The two-story brick classroom building of the Scotland school for veterans' children was swept by a spectacular four-hour fire last night.

Dr. J. Frank Faust, superintendent of nearby Chambersburg public schools and a member of the Scotland board of trustees, said the building was erected in 1930 at a cost of $400,000. He estimated its replacement would cost $1,000,000.

The fire was discovered about 9:30 p. m., and was brought under control four hours later. Firemen fought the blaze in chilly winter weather with a stiff wind blowing.

Two volunteer firemen were injured. William Jacobs, 33, Chambersburg, fell off a ladder and suffered injuries to his left arm and back. Robert Sharp, 29, Shippensburg, suffered from exposure when his wet clothing was frozen. Both were taken to Chambersburg hospital.

Four hundred students watched the fire from nearby dormitories. The school is maintained by the commonwealth for sons of deceased Pennsylvania war veterans. It was established after the war between the states.

Holiday Quietude To Settle Over Warren

Holiday quietude will settle over Warren tomorrow as family groups reunite to enjoy Thanksgiving around the fireside and at well-laden tables, with all business activity practically suspended.

Banks, Court House and Municipal Building-offices, schools, and practically all business establishments will be closed. Several restaurants and gasoline filling stations will remain open. Borough students will have a long weekend as classes will not convene again until Monday morning. Almost all retail stores will be closed.

There will be no city or rural mail delivery and the post office windows will be closed. The lobby will be open, boxes will be serviced, and special deliveries handled. There will be no issue by The Times-Mirror.

State Secretary of Highways
Dies Suddenly at Ceremonies
Marking Opening of New Link

Blairsville, Nov. 21—(P)—Ray F. Smock, 63, Pennsylvania secretary of highways for five years, died suddenly last night at ceremonies marking the opening of 5½ miles of new highway.

Smock suffered a heart attack in the Blairsville First Methodist church where he had just finished making the principal address. He spoke at a dinner marking the opening of a new multi-lane section of the William Penn Highway between Blairsville and New Alexandria.

Dr. William Schilling, superintendent of Torrance State Hospital, near Blairsville, said Smock died without suffering.

Persons in the audience said the highway executive discarded his prepared notes and in an apparently gay mood paid tribute to those responsible for getting the new road open.

Smock spoke in Miami, Fla., earlier this year answering Florida and California's claims to the national highway prize.

News of the unexpected passing of popular Ray Smock, at Blairsville, was received by a host of Warren friends with surprise and sorrow. Mr. Smock made many warm acquaintances on his various visits to this community, the last of which were his appearances here with John S. Fine, when the executive was campaigning for governor in 1950.

tion's best highways. He was asked to repeat that speech last night after finishing his own.

It was after repeating the speech, said William Lombard, editor of the Blairsville dispatch, that Smock complained of feeling weak. He collapsed as the celebration was being concluded with the singing of a hymn, "Blessed Be The Tie That Binds."

Earlier in the day Smock, accompanied by his wife, motored from Harrisburg to Blairsville, where he attended a ribbon cutting ceremony and spoke briefly.

Friends said Mr. and Mrs. Smock had planned to drive to Ephesus for the night and then continue to their Meadville home.

Smock was appointed secretary of highways March 21, 1946. The appointment was made by former Gov. Edward Martin. He was reappointed in 1947 by former Gov. (Turn to Page Ten)

Six Below Lowest
Recorded in Area

Warren county had its own low temperature of six below zero, reported early today at the home of Robert Vicini, Morrison Run, while the next coldest community was Philipsburg, Centre county, which reported its first zero mark of the year.

The mercury started to drop in Warren late last evening and was zero at 11 p. m. High all day yesterday was 26 above.

The U. S. Weather Bureau, Harrisburg, promises warmer weather for the rest of the week throughout the state, especially in the western sections. Meanwhile, the State Highway Department reported that with promised higher temperatures, driving conditions should be excellent over the weekend for holiday motorists. The reports said some icy spots remained on mountain roads but that these have been well cindered.

Some Figures About the Cost of That Turkey Dinner as Compiled in Capital

Washington, Nov. 21—(P)—The makings for a Thanksgiving turkey dinner for four will cost about $6.16 in Washington, up 34 cents from 1950, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

The agency did not have the figures for the rest of the country, but the relationship between this and last year's prices here usually doesn't run far off the national average. There will be local variations.

The bureau figured last Turkey Day's dinner materials here cost around six per cent less, or $5.82. The 1949 figure was $5.72.

A family of four will eat about five pounds of turkey at a sitting Thursday, the bureau decided. That is about half an average turkey, so the bureau made an al-

Delegates Fail To Elect a Successor
To Bishop Sawyer

Erie, Nov. 21—(P)—Delegates adjourned after failing, on eight ballots, to elect a new bishop of the Erie diocese of the Episcopal church.

Both clergy and laity vote and a majority must be obtained from each group to elect.

The list of candidates on the first ballot dropped to two after the sixth ballot yesterday. They were:

The Reverend Thomas L. Small of Oil City, and the Right Reverend Russell Sturgis Hubbard, suffragan bishop of Michigan.

The diocese is seeking a successor to Bishop Harold E. Sawyer, who retired last month.

Under diocese regulations the successful candidate must obtain a majority of votes from the clergy as well as the laity delegates.

The seventh and eighth ballots gave Bishop Hubbard a lay majority and Mr. Small a majority of the clergy ballots.

The meeting was adjourned indefinitely after the eighth ballot. Delegates are subject to recall by the standing committee.

There are 125 delegates eligible to vote. The clergy has 27 of the votes and the laity 96.

The successful candidate will become the fifth bishop of the 41-year-old diocese. It embraces 13 northwestern Pennsylvania counties.

The Erie diocese was formed in 1910 after a division with the Pittsburgh diocese.

The standing committee gave no indication when the balloting will be resumed.

PILOTS' STRIKE ON ALL-AMERICAN NEAR

Washington, Nov. 21—(P)—The AFL Airlines Pilots' Association said today a strike of pilots on All-American Airways, farflung eastern feeder line, is imminent.

The company operates passenger and mail service to nearly 40 cities in Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Delaware. It has headquarters in Washington.

The Association said the company employs about 90 pilots and co-pilots who are demanding pay increases to bring them up to par with pilots of the larger airlines.

lowance for leftovers for later meals.

Even though more turkeys are available, the prices are up slightly over 1950. A 12-pound bird will cost $7.30 for this year's festive meal, compared with $7.68 a year ago.

The trimmings also are higher, the bureau said. Potatoes are way up from last year—38 cents higher on 15 pounds. Eggs are 15 cents a dozen above the price just before Thanksgiving, 1950.

You can save a few pennies if you serve raisins and tomato juice. Raisins are three cents less per box this year, and tomato juice is a penny below the 1950 rate for a can of 46 ounces.

Apples and celery, the bureau reports, are just about the same as a year ago.

Division Arrive in BremerhavenTRUMAN TALK
DRAWS REPLY
FROM G. O. P.

Washington, Nov. 21—(P)—Republicans reiterated charges of "corruption" today in reply to President Truman's assertion that the Democrats won't take lying down the "lies and smears" he said he expects in the 1952 presidential campaign.

Mr. Truman told an audience of party members here last night he thinks more money will be spent "in trying to defeat the Democratic party next year than has ever before been spent in any election in the history of the country."

His declaration that "the truth and the facts are on our side" brought a retort from Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) that "President Truman should certainly get the prize for political effrontery" for his speech.

Guy G. Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said Mr. Truman had "a flash of realism" when he said "a mistake in a presidential election can cause the country untold harm."

"The reminder isn't necessary for millions of Americans," Gabrielson said. "They are disgusted and alarmed at the high taxes, high prices, corruption, crises and war of this incompetent administration. They won't make the mistake again."

Without naming the senator, Mr. Truman singled out Taft with the assertion that "Senator Taft's tests" had poured money into Ohio last year to reelect the Republican.

Taft, an avowed candidate for his party's presidential nomination, said in a statement in Cincinnati that "it is the Truman party which is the beneficiary of the money of special interests and millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money used for political propaganda x x x."

Taft said the CIO and AFL had undertaken to raise $300,000,000 from union members "to purge all Republicans from congress." He said Republicans legitimately spent money to meet this attack, adding:

Blood Plasma Slow-
Down Is Prevented

Philadelphia, Nov. 21—(P)—Ratification of a new contract by Union Chemical Workers has averted a strike which threatened drastically to slow down the flow of blood plasma to the armed forces in Korea.

Herbert Heath, president of Local 86, United Chemical Workers (CIO), said only 75 of the 975 union members were absent from the meeting and that those attending voted unanimously for the agreement with Sharp & Dohme, Philadelphia pharmaceutical firm. The agreement was perfected earlier in Washington during a 16-hour meeting with arbitrators.

The strike, scheduled to start last midnight, would have halted the processing of the vital fluid at the company's nearby West Point, Pa., plant. This plant supplies about one-fourth of the plasma sent to the armed forces.

KOREAN WIVES LEAVE
JAPAN FOR STATES

Tokyo, Nov. 21—(P)—Eleven couples and three children board a Military Air Transport Service plane this afternoon bound for the United States—the first group of American husbands and Korean wives to make the trip.

Among the are Sgt. Paul D. Dillman and Eugene N. Carbaugh, of South Mountain, Pa., and their war brides.

Dillman and Carbaugh like the other nine soldiers, saw long service with the Korean military advisory group.

The two Pennsylvanians enlisted in the army at the same time and went to Korea in March, 1948. They served there together and now they have left it together, both married.

Hamburger Thursday

San Francisco, Nov. 21—(P)—Most people like turkey for Thanksgiving dinner, but where Wolfgang Singer is concerned, hamburger tickles his palate.

Singer says he probably has cooked as many—or more—turkeys than any man alive—54,000. He cooks "tom day in and day out as roasting cook at the Palace Hotel."

Singer came here 26 years ago from Germany where "there aren't many turkeys and people don't like them. They eat geese."

"Me, I'd rather eat hamburger, nice rare hamburger. Of course, my wife Minna and I usually go to a friend's home for Thanksgiving. And they usually serve turkey," he sighed.

Navy P. G. School
And 500 Families
Leaving Annapolis

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 21—(P)—Have you ever moved your family across town?

If you think that's a problem, how would you like to move an entire school, more than 3,000 miles across the continent?

That's the task confronting Rear Adm. Ernest E. Herrmann, superintendent of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School.

The technical branch of the school, established here in 1909, closed its doors today after 42 years of operation. By the time classes are resumed on Feb. 18, 1952, for the second half of the present school year, it will be consolidated with the tactical branch at Monterey, Calif.

In addition to the dismantling and shipment of tons of laboratory equipment and material, the move involves the transporting of about 500 families from coast to coast.

To transport its huge load of equipment, the Navy intends to use trains, trucks, planes and ships. The railroad, assigned about 50 boxcar loads, will be the chief carrier.

The equipment ranges from delicate chemical balances and microscopes to enormous but delicate testing machinery, boilers, and two (Turn to Page Ten)

STAYS EXECUTION

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—(P)—Gov. John S. Fine today issued a respite staying the execution of Cleveland Thompson, convicted Allegheny county slayer, from the week of November 26 to the week of January 14. A spokesman for the governor's office said the respite was granted to permit Thompson to appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court. Thompson was convicted of shooting bartender Wallace Russell in Pittsburgh's Barbary Coast Cafe on September 21, 1950.

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—(P)—The state pardon board today considered a plea for commutation of sentence on behalf of John G. Polens, sentenced to a life term in Warren county in 1936.

The board heard the appeal yesterday and took it under advisement. Decisions usually are handed down about a month after the hearing. Commutation of the sentence would make Polens eligible for parole.

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—(P)—The State Pardon Board was asked Tuesday to free a 46-year-old Pittsburgh man from his life prison sentence in the slaying of a Warren county filling station operator.

Norbert E. Welch, parole director at the Western State Penitentiary, made the plea on behalf of John G. Polens.

Polens was sentenced to death in Warren county in 1936 in the shooting of Metro Seminuk. The sentence later was commuted to life imprisonment.

Welch told the board that the penitentiary considers Polens "a superior inmate."

"He has been working with the parole department since his confinement and does outstanding work," Welch told the board. "Polens has never betrayed a confidence as long as he has been dealing with our parole records."

Welch also said there is no opposition in Warren county to his plea for freedom.

Polens is a comparatively young man yet and has an excellent parole plan, he said.

"I think I would trust him with anything I have," Welch said. "I am sure he would never get in trouble again."

The crime which caused Polens to be imprisoned was committed on March 26, 1936 at the Airport Inn, about a mile west of Youngsville on Route 6.

Within a few days, Polens and (Turn to Page Ten)

CORAOPOLIS NEGRO
FATALLY SHOTS WIFE

Coraopolis, Nov. 21—(P)—Police sought a Coraopolis man today on a charge of shooting his wife to death and seriously wounding his 27-year-old daughter. He is Ernest Dickerson, 43.

Mrs. Syble Dickerson, 46, died from a shot from a .22 caliber rifle during a family argument. The daughter, Elizabeth, was critically injured.

Police said Miss Dickerson told them over the telephone: "My father shot me and I'm dying." (All are negroes).

DIES AT 100 YEARS

Johnstown, Nov. 20—(P)—Mrs. Helen Barnes Spence, one of the oldest women in Cambria county, died today at nearby Bakerton. She was 100 years old last March 23. A native of Scotland, Mrs. Spence had lived in Cambria county most of her life. Survivors include two children and 16 grandchildren.

Bradford Woman Dies Instantly as Car
Skids Off Route 69 Above Sugar Run

Mrs. Nancy Chartreau Clark, aged about 48, of 78 Cornen street, Bradford, was instantly killed early this afternoon when a late model Chevrolet sedan, driven by her husband, George L. Clark, left Route 59, less than a mile north of Sugar Run.

According to George Reynolds of the Complanter Restaurant, Sugar Run, the Clark car went into a wooded section when it skidded on the icy highway and Mrs. Clark was killed when thrown from the car. Mr. Clark, although badly shaken by the mishap, was not injured and the car was not damaged.

Mrs. Clark is well known in Bradford where she was employed as a clerk in an A. & P. store, and formerly operated her own grocery. Neighbors in Bradford told The Times-Mirror that the Clark's have no children but that she is survived by one sister.

Coroner Ed C. Lowrey accompanied Pennsylvania State Police to the scene of the accident, and allowed the body to be taken to a Bradford undertaking establishment. Members of the L. M. Lilley family, near whose home the accident occurred, sent for the Lutz-Verkilyea ambulance, believing Mrs. Clark had also been injured and before it was ascertained that Mrs. Clark was dead. Coroner Lowrey and State Police are continuing an investigation.

GENERAL IKE
TAKING PART IN GREETING

Bremerhaven, Germany, Nov. 21—(P)—Advance elements of the 28th Infantry Division—"Pennsylvania's Own" National Guard—arrived in Germany today to complete the American reinforcement of General Dwight Eisenhower's European army.

Gen. Eisenhower himself was on his way to greet the 28th personally as the vanguard of the division steamed into this big U. S. supply port aboard the transport General Butler.

It was a gloomy, rainy morning. But the 2,000 soldiers aboard the Butler cheered and waved as the big transport docked.

They answered with yells when the welcoming band played the division song, "Roll on, 28th."

Bremerhaven, Germany, Nov. 21—(P)—Soldiers of Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry Division marched ashore here today confident that their presence in Germany will help prevent war.

The division commander, Major General Daniel B. Strickler, of Lancaster, Pa., said:

"We realize we are not coming here as occupation troops but as part of the North Atlantic Army to secure peace in Europe."

If it should come to fighting, Strickler expressed confidence that his division would do its share. "We feel that no other outfit is any better than ours," he said proudly.

He said the division, which already has had rugged training in the U. S., will continue and sharpen its training here in Germany to be ready for any emergency.

Hopes for Truce
Brighten as Reds
Submit Own Plan

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 21—(P)—Truce hopes brightened today when Communist negotiators submitted a cease-fire plan of their own that could open the way for a Korean armistice by Christmas.

It was similar to a United Nations plan for creating a buffer zone along the present fighting line to take effect if an armistice is signed within 30 days.

The command's official spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said if the Red plan "means that we think it means x x x then I think we are very close to a solution" of the buffer zone question.

The point in doubt was whether the Communist proposal means "that troops will be withdrawn from the buffer zone after an armistice is signed" as the U. N. has proposed.

After the Communists submitted their counterproposal at Panmunjom at Wednesday's two-hour truce session, Allied negotiators tried to determine whether the Reds contemplated an immediate or delayed withdrawal from a buffer zone to be created along the present front.

At the close of the session Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, heading the U. N. subcommittee, told the Red delegates "we will present you with the necessary revisions to clear up this proposal" at Thursday's meeting. It is set for 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Wednesday EST).

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 21—(P)—United Nations forces today threw back the Reds' strongest attempt to halt an Allied line-strengthening drive on the central Korean front. The U. N. push has gained nearly five miles since Saturday.

The Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth Division stopped counterattacks by elements of two Red battalions. The South Koreans had the support of a tremendous artillery barrage.

An Allied officer said, "We clobbered the hell out of them all night. Without the artillery the Reds could have made it hard on the ROKS."

Over 125 Thrown Out of Employment By Closing of Tannery at West Hickory

With announcement made today by the West Hickory Tanning Company that operation of the plant in West Hickory will be discontinued as soon as the present supply is exhausted, between 125 and 130 employees will be looking for new jobs.

Fear that West Hickory will ultimately become a "ghost town" was expressed throughout the village today.

Perry R. Smith of Tidoute, assistant manager in charge of the plant, told The Times-Mirror today that high prices asked by the packers for hides prohibits the concern from operating at a profit. "We are unable to obtain enough money for our leather to enable us to turn around and buy more hides," he declared.

Mr. Smith's father, Harry Smith of Ridgway, is general manager. The property is owned by the Howe Leather Company of Boston, Mass., with labor and operation handled by the West Hickory Tanning Company. Sole leather has been produced in large quantities.

While the actual closing down of the concern may extend over a period as long as two months, the hide department is closed today with final processing of rough materials on hand. In order of closing will be the beam house, tan yard, scrub house, loft and shipping department.

At the height of its activity, the tannery employed 200, with the employees list now between 125 and 130. It has been West Hickory's only claim to industrial activity over a period of almost 80 years, having been started in 1872.

Status of occupants of plant-owned homes was uncertain today. The owners of the tannery property also own about 35 houses in West Hickory, all occupied by workers in the plant. It was said that only a mere handful of West Hickory residents are employed elsewhere.

Mr. Smith told The Times-Mirror this morning that closing of the tannery follows a general movement taking place in the textile industry, other manufacturers being faced with the same problem of high prices for raw materials.

K. of C. Communion Breakfast Sunday

After members of the Knights of Columbus and their sons attend 8 a. m. mass, Sunday, at Holy Redeemer church, they will sit down together for the annual Father and Son communion breakfast at the K. of C. club rooms in Second avenue.

The mass will be said by a Redemptorist priest who will come from St. Mary's Seminary at North East. Speakers at the breakfast will be the visiting priest and Judge Allison D. Wade.

It was announced this morning that members who have no sons are also invited to participate, as this annual event is for all members, and an early purchase of tickets is urged.

Rev. Fr. Alfred Bauer, rector of St. Joseph's church, and Rev. Fr. M. E. Dailey, rector of Holy Redeemer church, will be guests.

Penelec Employee Is Elected As Head Of Sportsmen's Club

John H. Schuler, Penelec employee at its garage in Pennsylvania avenue, west was named president of the Warren County Council of Sportsmen, last evening, when election of officers was held.

John Schuler at a meeting in the Kalbfus Rod and Gun Club on Chapman Dam road.

Frank Reese was elected vice president; Leonhardt Donaldson, secretary and treasurer; Donald Curtis, delegate; and Mr. Donaldson, alternate.

A resolution was introduced which would make the 1952 jack-rabbit season two weeks in duration, and this will be submitted at a meeting of the northwest division to be held in Franklin, December 16. Eight of the eleven clubs in the county were represented at last night's meeting.

Among guests present were Ross Bailey, fish warden; Richard Costley, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest; and F. M. Geer, member of the state sanitary water board.

Refreshments were served by the Warren Field and Stream club.

Guests in Hospitals and Institutions Will Dine on Either Turkey or Chicken

With Thanksgiving dinners centered around turkey and chicken, there will be many other good things to eat in hospitals and institutions around Warren county, tomorrow. Every one of the large kitchens will turn out special meals for all hands, with no detail overlooked, and in several cases there will be special entertainment.

At the Ruth M. Smith Home in Sheffield, there will be a fine turkey dinner at mid-day, and Frank Byrne, superintendent, said late yesterday that the children plan a program and a play during the afternoon of Thanksgiving day. He said there are 25 children in the Home.

At the Hoffman Children's Home in Warren, where 31 children now reside, Mrs. Carrie Meredith, the superintendent, is planning a turkey dinner about noon.

Miss Hazel M. Smith, superintendent of Warren General Hospital, said today that there will be turkey for all patients not on a limited diet. The hospital is almost full, she said.

Major Charles Schaffer, commanding officer of the Salvation Army, started his Thanksgiving endeavors last week, and only yesterday he was in the vicinity of Torpedo to deliver Thanksgiving supplies to the needy. With the extreme cold weather, there have been many more calls than usual for clothing and food. A number of Thanksgiving baskets are to be delivered. Members of the Salvation Army's Home League will hold a party, Wednesday evening, at the citadel.

Mrs. E. P. Wroth, superintendent of Watson Memorial Home, has planned a nice holiday dinner for the 27 elderly women who are guests at the Home, to be served at 1 p. m.

When The Times-Mirror called Rouse Hospital, Youngville, one of the cooks, Alice M. Clark, answered the phone and was enthusiastic over the dinner to be served there tomorrow. She said there will be plenty of chicken, biscuits and gravy, pumpkin pie and other good things to eat for the 125 who are quarantined there. Dinner will be at noon.

Mrs. W. D. Dirling, wife of the warden at Warren County Jail, is planning a turkey dinner for the eight prisoners who must spend Thanksgiving there.

At Warren State Hospital, 2,950 patients and 550 employees will be treated to a sumptuous turkey dinner, Thursday. There will be all the traditional "fixins" and plenty of everything, it was said at the hospital this morning. A total of 126 immense turkeys are being roasted in the big ovens at the hospital today. Tomorrow afternoon's movie will feature "Kim" with the short being "Jerry and the Goldfish."

Aprons Make Lovely Gifts For Women

Aprons, as Christmas gifts, are so popular with women, as to be almost traditional by now. The ones that are made for the wearer are best, because they combine the personal touch with practicality.

When they're made from cotton feed bags, according to patterns, gift aprons have another asset: they're thrifty. But thrift doesn't mean dullness. Vary the patterns that you use with the needs of your friends and make everyone happy.

For a friend who likes to entertain, a party-time apron will be a welcome gift. A 100-pound feed bag in a soft blue, maroon and white ballet print was chosen for the apron we made. It's easy to do, pretty when it's finished. A white cotton organdy sash and big pocket provide contrast and trim.

Another half-apron for a hostess uses a 100-pound print bag and part of a plain bag. Plain fabric is inset in inverted triangles and forms the waistband. Print is a light blue and rust against white, with plain fabric dyed a matching rust.

A practical apron that looks pretty is done in plaid, bound in red tape, given a red patch pocket. Wide shoulder straps criss-cross in back, button in front.

The coverall is a handy apron and one that many women pick as the backbone of an apron wardrobe. We made a coverall apron in an apple print, gave it an appliqued pocket in red, shaped like an apple. A woman wants a real cover-up for kitchen work but she doesn't want it to shout out its practicality.

Another coverall apron, which we did in a green-and-white check overprinted with a rose-and-navy floral design, has princess lines. It's dart-fitted, with buttons in back at the upper edge and tie strings for the waistline.

Services Would Enlist 72,000 Women by July

Commencing immediately the recruiting services of all branches of the Armed Forces is starting a drive to enlist a total of 72,000 women by next July. These women are needed to expand the women's services to 112,000 persons as part of a Department of Defense goal of 3,500,000 servicemen and women by next summer, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, Assistant Secretary of Defense, recently announced in Washington.

In a recent speech concerning the women of the Armed Forces Mrs. Rosenberg stated, "The privilege of serving the nation in uniform is no longer reserved to men. Women have earned that right, along with their full privileges of citizenship. No less than men, women know they have a stake in this nation. During World War II the women exercised the right to serve on equal terms with men as they volunteered in large numbers in the WAC, WAVES, MARINES and SPARS. Now with an acute shortage in manpower, women again have the opportunity of serving. They will not be found wanting. Local recruiters of all branches of the Armed Forces are participating in this drive for women. In connection with this drive, interested girls between the ages of 18 and 26 may contact the Marine Recruiter at the Warren Post Office any Thursday afternoon until 3:30 and the Navy Recruiter any Tuesday from 10:00 to 2:00 at the same place.

Fringe Makes a Gift You Can Make Yourself

SAFETY FIRST
If lights are desired in windows during the holiday season, never use candles. Keep curtains and other flammable material pulled back at least six inches from any electric light. Use non-flammable decorations of glass or metal. After Christmas presents have been opened, remove all gift wrapping and packing material from your living room and dispose of them.

Pick Something Special in Way of Adornments

Many women, feeling that the Christmas season calls for something special in the way of personal adornment, are discouraged when a trek through the shops produces nothing more exciting than some colored pine cones or a cluster of holly berries. The answer is to make your own.

Patricia Easterbrook Roberts, well-known New York floral designer, offers these suggestions for those who wish to add a sparkle both to their appearance and to party prattle.

A decided conversation piece is a bubble crown which bestows regality upon its wearer at pin money cost. All that's needed to create this gleaming magnificence is a handful of Christmas tree balls—the kind with self-stems and a half-dozen pipe cleaners.

Silver pipe cleaners, which catch the eye with a tinsely glitter, are available at your florist. Twist these into a circle to fit the crown of your head, then loop on additional cleaners to form pegs for the silver balls. Attach the ornaments, and then you're all set to be the most brilliant Christmas belle at the ball.

To peek coyly from beneath the hem of a swishing formal, here's another idea involving pipe cleaners. They're of red chenille this time, paired with red metallic thread which is available at needlework counters.

To make a holiday-happy butterfly perch upon each shoe, begin by looping the metallic thread in figure-eight fashion around the thumb and little finger of your left hand. Continue winding until there's enough thickness for fluffy wings.

The body and the feelers of the gossamer insect are made of red pipe cleaners, which are looped under at the bottom to form little hooks for securing the butterflies to your slippers.

Times Topics

WORKMAN INJURED

Victor Miasli, Clarendon, employed by the Warren Concrete Products Company, was treated and discharged at Warren General Hospital, Tuesday, when his right hand was injured by a falling lid.

TRANSFER LEAVE

Ensign Jack Hamilton, here to spend the holiday week with his mother, Mrs. E. G. Hamilton, Market street, has just been detached from the carrier USS Coral Sea and is enroute to Pensacola, Fla., for flight training.

LUNCHEON-MEETING

A district meeting and luncheon of Beauty Counsellors, Inc., was held Monday at the Hotel James-town, with Stella Lee Davis as guest speaker. Among those in attendance from this area were Viola Firth and Doris Hewitt, of Russell; Margaret Huck and Mac Smith, North Warren, and Mrs. Gerald Fleming, Quaker Road, Warren.

LINE BREAKS

As always, the first below zero weather of the season has resulted in several line breaks in copper wires of the Pennsylvania Railroad telephone and telegraph system. Railroad officials said this morning that repairs were rapidly being made and all lines would again be in service at an early hour.

SCHOOL VACATION

Beginning with the close of classes this afternoon, Warren borough schools will enjoy a Thursday and Friday Thanksgiving vacation, resuming next Monday morning. A number of instructors will be spending the holiday with families and friends at distant points, while others will be entertaining guests in their own homes in town.

CLERK-CARRIER EXAM

The director of the Third U. S. Civil Service Region, Philadelphia, today announced an examination for substitute clerk-carrier for duty out of the Warren post office. Persons hired as a result of this examination will be given indefinite appointments only and will not require permanent civil service status. Those interested may obtain further information and application forms from the Commission's local secretary, W. U. McMichael, at the Warren post-office.

Newly Remodeled Gaughn Drug Store To Hold Open House Friday and Saturday

Elsewhere in this issue an announcement is made by Mel Ahlgren, owner, that the newly remodeled Gaughn Drug Store, 348 Pennsylvania avenue, west, will hold a formal opening Friday and Saturday of this week, when the public will be given an opportunity to visit the attractive and modernly equipped pharmacy.

Mr. Ahlgren may be justly proud of the handsome and enlarged store that bears the name of the man who in 1920 started it in half of the room it now occupies. At that time the other half of the space was known as the C. A. Nichols jewelry store.

Mr. Ahlgren has been associated with the store since 1928 when he accepted a position with Mr. Gaughn as pharmacist, following his graduation from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. In 1940, after the death of Mr. Gaughn, he purchased the store, which has progressed and expanded until it now enjoys the reputation of being the best in the entire section.

It was in 1943 that the store was enlarged by the acquisition of the other half of the room. Some months ago Mr. Ahlgren started the present modernization program, which included further enlargement by moving the prescription department some distance to the rear to provide more space for drugs and display of stocks. The new equipment consists of much additional shelving and open display fixtures.

At the head of the prescription department since 1940, is Irvin Post, graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, whose expert knowledge of drugs and prescriptions has earned for the store a large number of friends and patrons. Four charming and capable women are employed as clerks to care for the trade.

The complete line of drugs, pharmaceuticals, chemicals and biological products are of the best, including such makes as Lilly, Parke-Davis, Merck, Abbott, Squibb, Lederle Winthrop, Upjohn and many others. The prescription volume is considered to be as large as any in the area, acquired by giving prompt and dependable service and using only the finest ingredients at fair prices.

Only nationally advertised brands of quality stocks are carried in all departments, including cosmetics, toiletries, baby articles, candy and greeting cards.

The new store is an excellent example of modern drug store design. Its outstanding quality is its modern, uncluttered, organized appearance. This is achieved by the bold use of color, beautiful fixtures spaciouly arranged, and by rigorous store housekeeping which keeps floors and cases gleaming and merchandise in orderly array.

Mr. Ahlgren announces that the public is cordially invited to visit the store Friday or Saturday, and he reminds that "there will be gifts for all."

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Nov. 20 — Miss Mary Alice Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Atkins was honored Thursday evening at a party which followed the regular meeting of the WSCS of the Methodist Church, at the home of Mrs. Travers Stohberg.

Miss Atkins, whose marriage to Bruce Keene, of Syracuse, N. Y., will take place at the Sugar Grove Methodist Church, November 24, received many nice gifts from those present.

Miss Flossie Broughton and Mrs. Clifford Storms received prizes in the contests, and Mrs. F. A. Schoonover presided at a beautifully decorated buffet table centered with miniature bride and groom.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Schoonover and Mrs. Burt Schoonover.

Mrs. Walter Sweeney presided at the meeting which preceded the shower party, and Mrs. Storms was program leader. Mrs. Roy Briggs gave a talk on Malaya.

The group voted to send Christmas gifts to the Elliotts in Alaska, the Fosses in Malaya, the St. John Home at Sheffield and shut-ins in this community.

The Round the Corner Birthday Club met at the home of Mrs. Paul Slagle, honoring the birthday of Mrs. Al Morando, with the hostess making the birthday cake.

After a delicious dinner, the women retired to the living room where Mrs. Morando, opened her birthday gifts and the others their "secret sister" gifts.

The next party will be held December 11, at the home of Mrs. Claude Griggs, honoring the birthday of Mrs. Harold Griggs. This will be the closing party for '31 and names for next year will be exchanged.

Mrs. William Saunders was hostess to the Stilson Hill Ladies' Aid, at her home with nine members, one visitor and four children present.

A delicious dinner was served at noon and the day was spent working on quilts for Laverne McIlldowney, son of Mrs. Alma McIlldowney and Dannie Lyon, son of Mrs. Ray Power.

Mrs. John Firth presided at the business meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. J. Phillips, November 28.

A Season With St. Nicholas

SANTA GETS IN TRAINING . . . That Christmas Eve delivery trip is a tough job, so Santa starts early to get in shape by polishing up his tight-rope technique, taking a cross-country run, pursuing by clamoring children, and visiting his doctor for a thorough check-up. Finding that he's in tip-top physical shape, the old gentleman consents to pose for press photographers, baggies for his reindeer and after his hard night's ride is over bakes a Christmas cake for his elves. These adventures are portrayed in this year's cards by Associated American Artists.

Altar Society of St. Johns Church was held at the home of Mrs. George B. King. During the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. King, it was decided to take up a collection of home-made jellies for the children of St. Joseph's Orphanage, Erie. Refreshments were served.

James Latimer of Latimer's Base Station, together with a companion, took part in a rescue on Sunday when they pulled John Haggerty of Clarion, out of the river after his motorboat had capsized.

Mrs. Dora York-Greenlee, aged eighty years, died Tuesday evening after an illness of several months. She was born July 17, 1871, and spent almost her entire life in Tidioute. On December 25, 1889, she was married to Byron E. York, who preceded her in death. To this union were born five children: Grace, Raymond, Ralph, Ruby and Alice. Two of these children survive her, Mrs. Grace Storer of Bradford and Mrs. Alice Blum of Titusville. In 1934, she married Elmer U. Greenlee, who died in 1949. Services in her memory were conducted Friday at 2:30 from the Sage Funeral Home by her pastor, Dr. W. J. Prout, with burial in Tidioute cemetery.

The play given by the seniors at the High School auditorium, Friday evening, was well-done, with a good crowd in attendance.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mrs. Mary Corah, Pennsylvania avenue, west, left today for Youngstown, O., where she will spend the holiday and weekend visiting her family, Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Conti, and children.

Holiday and weekend guests of Mrs. M. V. Ball, 316 Hazel street, are her daughter, Miss Jean, teacher at Brockport, N. Y.; and Dr. John G. Ball and family, Bethesda, Md.

Mrs. Raymond Heelan and son, of Philadelphia, are the holiday guests of Charles and Anne DeFrees, Liberty street, and other members of the family. Mrs. Heelan is the former Miss June DeFrees.

Stream of Soldiers Pours Across Pier At Hampton Roads

Norfolk, Va. — Another stream of uniformed men poured across pier two at the Hampton Roads port of embarkation Tuesday.

The line went across the pier apron, swept by a chilly wind, up the gangway and into the troop compartments of Navy transports. And the 110th Infantry Regiment of the 28th Division was on its way to Germany.

On hand for a final meeting with their men in uniform were wives, fathers and mothers of the soldiers who are going to augment the North Atlantic Pact forces under the command of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. Most of them came from Pennsylvania as the division is a former National Guard unit of that state.

"As far as I can gather, they want to make the trip," said Col. H. K. Fluck of Somerset, Pa., commanding officer.

Colonel Fluck said most of the men boarding the ship do not seem to mind the duty ahead of them, and of course, prefer Germany to Korea. He said about 95 per cent of the officers of his regiment are World War II veterans as are about 20 per cent of the enlisted men.

First Lt. Joseph Coshan of Baltimore, Md., the regimental chaplain, remarked that "these are a pretty good bunch of boys." The chaplain said many of the officers served in Europe as enlisted men in the last war and they seem particularly anxious to make the journey.

"You can't hold them back—they're raring to go," he said.

The first train load of soldiers arrived at the pier from Camp Atterbury at 9:30 a. m. The families came out of cars and offices to watch the soldiers leave the train.

On instructions from loading officers, they filed through the waiting Red Cross counters to pick up coffee and doughnuts and continued on to the edge of the pier warehouse where they were checked against the passenger list and sent on aboard ship.

CRANBERRY STAINS

Cranberry stains can be treated with boiling water, if it does not harm the cloth, and sometimes even warm water is effective. It is better not to use soap, as alkalies set some fruit and berry stains.

New Master Takes Post at Meeting of Farmington Grange

Lander, Nov. 21—Master Lynn Burgett, in charge of last night's meeting of Farmington Grange, was formally installed to that office for another term, along with the following:

Overseer, Warren Wilcox; lecturer, Mrs. Frank Callan; steward, Arthur Hitchcock; assistant steward, Evan Wilcox; chaplain, Iva Hitchcock; treasurer, Jennie Lyon; secretary, Hazel Kays; gatekeeper, Gerald Hale; Ceres, Mrs. Margaret Wilcox; Pomona, Carrie Wilcox; Flora, Jane Burgett; asst. steward, Mrs. Evan Wilcox; executive committee members, Ira Stufflebeam; finance committee member and pianist, Mrs. Lynn Burgett.

Clark Beers was unable to come from Eldred Grange with his staff and the installing officer was Mrs. Glen Washburn, of Ross Grange in Chautauqua county. Assisting her were these members of the local Grange: Carrie Wilcox as marshal; Mary Stufflebeam as emblem bearer; Jane Burgett as regalia bearer.

Farmington members voted to have but one meeting monthly for the next four months, with the late set for the second Thursday.

PLANE CRASH NEAR BEDFORD KILLS TWO

Bedford, Nov. 21—A man and a woman whose airplane had been guided to a safe landing only a few hours before crashed to their death three miles from Bedford yesterday.

Police identified the victims as W. L. Doyle, about 36, of Toledo, O., and Mrs. Virginia Bartlett, also about 36, of Indianapolis. At Toledo, Doyle's wife said Mrs. Bartlett had been a secretary and business associate of Doyle.

In Washington, D. C., Capt. Millard Lossing of Pittsburgh, All American Airways pilot said he encountered the couple while piloting his 24-passenger DC-3 from Pittsburgh.

Lossing said he was between Altoona, Pa., and Hagerstown, Md., when he heard Doyle report he was lost, running low on gasoline and buffeted by strong northwest winds.

Lossing climbed from 3,000 to 4,500 feet, spotted it above the cloud layer and guided it down to a landing at Hagerstown airport. Doyle, who said he was en route from Hagerstown to Dayton, O., spent an hour and 20 minutes refueling at Hagerstown, then took off again.

A few hours later the plane exploded in air, the wreckage plunging into a wood south of Bedford at the base of Wills Mountain. The bodies of a man and a woman were found about 150 yards from the main part of the wreckage.

FORT HOOD, TEXAS, is without its regular steward at its Officers' Club while Pfc. Frank Vavala, U.S.A., above, is in Warren to spend a 15-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Joseph Vavala, 703 W. Fifth avenue. Pfc. Vavala, a Warren High school graduate, is enjoying this temporary respite from services which he renders to a large group which varies from second lieutenant to general.

Obituaries

RALPH C. KNAPP

Funeral services in memory of Ralph Clarence Knapp, whose death occurred Saturday morning, were held at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday at the Lowe residence, 804 Complanter avenue, with Dr. Arthur Colley, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. Interment was made in the family plot in Oakland cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: Marshall Mathis, Richard Blackwell, Al Albaugh, William Carr, Charles Knapp and Otto Gnage.

Attending the rites from away were Harold Knapp, Alexandria, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sherman, Mrs. Tina Knapp, Youngsville. Mr. Knapp's oldest son, Lawrence, was unable to come for the service because he is ill of pneumonia in the Lennox Hill Hospital in New York City.

GORDON L. ERICKSON

Very largely attended services were held at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday in the Henderson-Lincoln Chapel at Jamestown for Gordon L. Erickson, 232 Elmcrest avenue, Jamestown, World War II veteran and husband of the former Betty Ahlgren, Warren. The Rev. Paul W. Peterson of the First Mission Covenant church, conducted the rites and the following served as bearers for interment in Lake View cemetery: Walter Erickson, Leyden Anderson, George Carlson, William Robertson, Donald Anderson and Donald Ecklund. Military ritual at the graveside was in charge of Ira Lou Spring Post, American Legion.

Mr. Erickson died early Sunday morning in Jamestown General Hospital after a brief illness. Born in Jamestown in 1922, he was employed as a press operator at the Art Metal Plant No. 1. Inducted into the Army on November 23, 1942, he served more than three years with Battery A, 905th Field Artillery, in Northern France and the Rhineland.

Besides his wife, Betty Ahlgren Erickson, he leaves one son, John Gordon Erickson; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Erickson, one brother and one sister, Bertie E. Erickson and Marian Erickson, all of Kane; and his grandfather, Carl Eld, of Kane.

Panama Police Chief Kills 300-Pound Bear

Ted Sutton, chief of police at Panama, N. Y., took a day off yesterday from his duties in the nearby Chautauqua county town and dropped down into Warren county where he shot a fine black bear, the weight of which was estimated at 300 pounds.

Sutton wounded the bear, early Tuesday, with a shot from his Remington, which he sighted it half way up Bull Hill, near Sheffield. The big animal was not badly hurt and took off into a hemlock woods. Chief Sutton and his hunting companion, Willy Alcorn, also of Panama, tracked bruin down but did not know they were near him when the big fellow rushed out of a thicket and headed for Sutton, who brought him down. It was almost noon before the bear was overtaken in his lair.

Native of Warren Active in Building Arabian Railroad

Harry D. Jackson, Jr., formerly of Warren, who is employed by the Arabian-American Oil Company in Saudi Arabia, as a civil engineer in building a railroad for the Arabian government, has been placed in charge of construction of the entire railroad area.

Mr. Jackson is supervising construction of warehouses, engine house, station, nine-room air conditioned building for housing personnel, a bridge, radio station and tower. He had expected to return to this country in January, but now says his homecoming will probably be later. The new 350-mile railroad extends from the Persian Gulf port of Dhahran across the desert to Riyadh, the capital of Saudi Arabia.

The young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Jackson, Sr., formerly of Warren, now reside in Edinboro. He is a grandson of Mrs. C. M. Knapp, Starbrick.

Penitentiary Parole Director Praises Polens in Plea

Joe Senauskas, allegedly the hired killer of Saminuk, were arrested and held for grand jury action. A true bill was returned charging them with murder on June 1, 1936. They went to trial two days later, with Polens represented by A. Lincoln Cohen, of Pittsburgh, who waived a jury trial.

After weeks of adjournments, postponements, rulings, and legal arguments, including the appointment of Dr. Robert H. Israel, superintendent of Warren State Hospital, as a psychiatrist to examine Polens, on June 23, 1936, Judge D. U. Aird delivered the opinion that Polens was convicted of first degree murder on his own plea.

Judge Aird then delivered sentence, saying that Polens be taken by the Sheriff to Western Penitentiary and that he suffer death by electricity during a week to be fixed by the Governor.

On June 26, a motion for a new trial was made by Mr. Cohen and a special session of court was set for October 27, 1936 with Judge James I. Brownson, of Washington county, appointed by the Supreme Court, to preside. Lemuel B. Schofield, of Philadelphia and Warren, represented Judge Aird during the appeal, which took four days of legal argument.

On the basis of the light sentence of co-defendant, Mrs. Mary Saminuk, Polens' sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment.

He has attempted to secure parole several times since then, but has never succeeded.

Among those who delivered Polens and Senauskas to prison were present Sheriff L. E. Linder; Deputy Sheriff Sandy Secor; then Deputy Sheriff William Stuart; John Berdine, son of then Sheriff John Berdine; Sgt. Steve Banks, of the Tionesta barracks of state police; and Cpl. Andrew Hitchenko, state policeman now in Kane. Reason for the heavy guard was the rumor that gangland pals of Senauskas from Cleveland were going to attempt a delivery between Warren and Bellefonte.

Among those who interested themselves in parole for Polens was the late Father Joseph Diamond and Attorney Earle J. MacDonald.

State Secretary of Highways Dies Suddenly

James H. Duff, and again this year by Gov. John S. Fine.

During Smock's tenure as highway secretary, the state embarked on a record-breaking road construction program. Some 6,600 miles of the commonwealth's 41,000 miles of highway were improved in the past three years.

Smock also served as vice president and secretary of the state highway and bridge authority, which is carrying out an $80,000,000 road improvement program.

He also served on the executive board of the association of state highway officials and as president of the Middle Atlantic States region in that association.

A native of Greenwood township, Crawford county, Smock moved to Meadville in 1909, where he became a foreman for a Meadville construction company.

Smock and a partner formed the Keystone Construction Company in 1912 and he was associated with that firm more than 20 years.

He resigned as register and recorder of deeds for Crawford county in 1941, after serving two and a half terms, so he could accept the position of assistant secretary of highways.

He was chairman of the Crawford County Republican committee for more than 20 consecutive years.

Surviving are his widow, the former Grace Kightlinger, and three sons.

Navy P. G. School and 500 Families Leave Annapolis

Hayseeds Cootlette Club 302 will hold its regular meeting Sunday, Nov. 25, at 2 p. m. sharp in the V.F.W. post rooms. There will be a joint installation with the Cootlettes. All Cootlettes are asked to be present.

In addition, there are about 40,000 library books to be shipped, plus the usual office and administrative equipment.

The new school, located on a 606-acre tract of land, consists of a five-story former hotel and several steel prefabricated houses.

Construction of a new engineering building will probably start in May or June, Herrmann said, followed later by a general line school, library, auditorium, and other buildings. He contemplates completion of the long range plans in about four or five years.

With the space available at the moment, the school will be able to accommodate between 900 and 1,000 students, Hermann said. Eventual capacity is expected to be about 2,000.

Some 500 students are already at Monterey and will be joined by about 375 from Annapolis. The normal complement of 600 tactical students at the Newport, R. I., general line school, disbanded since the start of the Korean war, will also be sent to California when the school is re-established.

Dragonette Staff Complimented On Most Recent Issue

Issue Editor Beverly Chapman and her Dragonette staff are taking bows today over the very new publication just off the presses in time for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Along with the usual editorials and departmental news, there are several announcements of particular interest not previously announced:

Kathryn Martin, dramatics coach, has started casting for the senior class play, "January Thaw", to be given on January 17-18.

The news writing class plans a poll of students to learn if school newscasts over the PA system are being listened to and if they should be continued.

Dr. Paul Saunders, professor of chemistry at Alfred University, will be the speaker for Student Council-sponsored assemblies on Friday, November 30.

Spanish Club members have invited German and Latin Club members for a barn dance December 6; and the German Club has plans underway for a Christmas dinner at the Stoneham community club on December 15.

The Future Business Leaders of America, with Laura Cosmano as chairman, will salute the basketball season with a Swish Dance in Beatty gym Friday, November 30, open to all students ninth grade and up.

Choir Presents A Program in Chapel

The day's schedule at Warren High School started off this morning with a Thanksgiving chapel arranged by the Second Choir under the direction of Carroll A. Fowler.

After a piano prelude by Janis Carlson, the students sang the hymn, "We Gather Together", for which Carol Powley was the accompanist. Other hymns on the program were "For the Beauty of the Earth", with Joan Andrews as accompanist, and "America the Beautiful", with Mary Lou Cramer at the piano. The students also joined in singing the Doxology.

Alice Lawson was the leader for the responsive reading of Ralph Waldo Emerson's "Thanksgiving". Richard Letrent and Ward Price led the students in unison prayers, and Arlene Ellberg read the 147th Psalm.

Joined by the cappella choir, the second choir sang two anthems, "Bless the Lord, O My Soul" by Ippolitov Ivanov and "Now Thank We All Our God", arranged by Mueller, with Martha Milenius as the accompanist, and gave the choral benediction.

The chapel closed with a piano postlude by Kay Barrett.

UN-PALESTINE MEET ANNOUNCES FAILURE

Paris, Nov. 21—(P)—The United Nations Palestine conciliation commission announced today its failure to settle Arab-Israeli differences.

The commission said it had called off the fruitless talks begun here Aug. 10 because neither party showed willingness to make concessions.

The group—made up of representatives of the United States, France and Turkey—now is drafting a report of its failure to the general assembly. It then will be up to the assembly to decide whether the commission should be liquidated or continued in existence.

Let Love Alone

By KATHLEEN HARRIS

Chapter 17

THERE was the beautiful silver ship. It was waiting, in readiness. There was not time to say much of anything, or to analyze reasons or even to know how she felt.

She stood there, with Hank watching until there was nothing, not even that small dark speck, left in the sky. Never had she felt more alone, more forsaken. There was no reason she should take it that hard, unless it was Jans conscience that rose up to smite her now.

Jan's dark mood started with her, all that day. She slept very little that night, but the next morning there was a wire from Ray. It made her feel better, but only a little bit.

"Smooth sailing so far," the wire read. "Not trying to make time on way out. May stop over for a few hours or so at halfway point where Bernice has ranch. We both send love."

Jan did not see why love should come from both of them, nor why they should take time out to make a stop-over. She imagined this was Bernice's idea. She would make the most of this time spent with Ray.

Well, let her. It did not matter to Jan. Let the other girl use all those feminine wiles of hers. Why should Jan care?

"Dear me, a ranch," Eve said when she read the telegram. "I suppose Miss Darrow has estates and houses wherever she goes. It certainly is a good thing, darling, that you made everything positive before they left."

"I don't know what you mean," Jan returned, but of course she did.

"You really are such a child," Her mother smiled on her fondly. No doubt that was why that handsome young man had fallen in love with Jan instead of with a sophisticated woman of the world like Miss Darrow.

"I'm not a child," Jan snapped. She was fed up with having everyone say that.

She was restless and nervous all day. She drove out to the field to talk with Hank, but he had not heard anything more than she had.

He pictured it as a slugging battle against well-heeled Republicans who could be expected to put on a "dirty smear campaign."

The president left up in the air the question whether he will run again. But he seemed to indicate that if he doesn't, he fully expects to have the determining voice in naming the Democratic nominee.

General Ike Taking Part in Greeting

The 28th is a Pennsylvania National Guard Division and about one-third of its soldiers are from the Keystone State. Many of the first 2,200 to arrive aboard the transport General Butler came from Philadelphia and Harrisburg, headquarters of their outfit.

The troops praised the food and entertainment they received on their voyage across the Atlantic. They had their Thanksgiving turkey aboard ship because they will be traveling by train tomorrow to a tent city which will be their temporary home during processing to permanent stations.

Gen. Strickler, who has been in Germany for several days, said the billet arrangements he found here for his troops looked very good.

It has not yet been announced just where the 28th will be located, but it is expected to be somewhere in the Stuttgart area.

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 21—American combat troops in Germany—six divisions strong—are being grouped under two corps commands in the U. S. Seventh Army, officers disclosed today.

The Seventh Corps—which earned the nickname "Lightning Joe" for its last wartime leader, General J. Lawton Collins—is now established at Stuttgart.

CLEMENT RETIRING

Philadelphia, Nov. 21—(P)—It was reported today that Martin W. Clement will retire as chairman of the board of the Pennsylvania Railroad at the end of the year. Clement was not available for comment on the report, but it was regarded as a strong possibility that he will issue a statement on the matter late in the day.

AIRLINER CRASHES

No Delhi, India, Nov. 21—(P)—Sixteen persons died today in the crash of an Indian Airliner at Calcutta's Dum Dum Airport. The 17th person aboard was reported in a serious condition. The plane, operated by Deccan Airways, was completing a flight from New Delhi, to Calcutta and crashed as it came in for a landing.

had. She tried to call Teddie again but he still was not at home. The maid said that young Mr. Lanford had not come in all last night.

Whooping it up, I suppose, Jan thought, because he's carrying a torch for me.

There was no sense in his overdoing it. Jan decided she would tell Teddie the truth, swearing him to secrecy, when she did get to talk with him. She left word again for him to phone her as soon as he got her message.

Jan's dark mood started with her, all that day. She slept very little that night, but the next morning there was a wire from Ray. It made her feel better, but only a little bit.

Santa Takes to Furbelows

ber's jacket and tasseled stocking cap; right, fake chinchilla scarf lined in taffeta, for wear with a, unfurrowed coats or what-have-you. All budget priced.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor
Fashion and poetry are two things which ordinarily don't go together, but Selma Robinson has led them to advantage.
Miss Robinson, known primarily as a poet and magazine writer, is designing small fur accessories in her spare time these days, and making wholesale of a success of the venture.
She started about a year ago when she made a set for her 12-year-old daughter and decorated it with a black fur poodle on the pocket. The skirt made such a hit with the pigtail crowd, that Miss Robinson whipped up some more ideas and took them to her favorite fur manufacturer.

That's how "Fur-Belows" started. Today the firm is manufacturing fur scarfs, handbags, belts, bracelets, jenkins and jackets, to mention a few things, all at budget prices and all smart enough to appeal to the most style-wise woman.
For Santas who can't afford to give mink coats,
"fur-belows" are the next best.

Backstage Workers Busy With Details For December Production of Players

Committees for the Warren Players' December production, "The Man," are working hard these days to iron out the imperfections and have everything in tiptop shape for performances on Thursday and Friday evenings, December 6-7, in the Woman's Club auditorium.

Lois Muir, as director, and Dorothy Irvine, bookholder, are concerned with the play itself, but many other hands are at work behind the scenes.

The set is in capable hands, with design by William Muir, decorations by Maritza Morgan, and construction by James Bailey and his committee, consisting of Glen Nelson, R. L. Yaegle, Ervin Rader and Earl Abel.

James and Jean Chili are in charge of assembling stage properties, assisted by Thelma Crandall, Ruth Jackson, Jean F. Johnson and Katharine Stowe. Hand properties are the job of Rosamond Lawhead and her committee, Helen Kine, Patricia McCarthy and Marie Weissenfluh.

Martha Plummer and Jean Steele have charge of the costume division. Jo Africa will be assisted by Virginia Myers in the make-up department.

As stage manager, Glen Nelson has charge of assembling all stage work into a unit. James Hess will be responsible for the lighting effects.

One of the most difficult tasks in producing a play is being handled very ably by Helene McClure. As production advisor, she is coordinating the work of all committees, cast and public relations with Jeanne Lopez in charge of publicity.

Wilson and Endrulat Marriage Out West

Word comes from California that Miss Margot Endrulat, the daughter of Mrs. Johanna Endrulat, 2307 West Roscoe street, Chicago, Ill., was united in marriage with Earl L. (Bud) Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Wilson, 108 1/2 Cayuga avenue, Warren, on November 3.

The service was read at 4:30 p. m. in St. Luke's Lutheran church in Huntington Park, Calif., by the Rev. Charles Smith.

Mrs. Wilson is a graduate of the High School of Chicago and does secretarial work in Los Angeles, while Mr. Wilson is an alumnus of Warren High, has served four years with the U. S. Navy and is currently stationed at San Diego, Calif.

School Officials Are Speakers For The Woman's Club

Mrs. Robert C. Schorman presided at the November meeting of the Woman's Club Community Service Department, held at the clubhouse Monday afternoon.

Miss Mary Craft, reporting for the next meeting of the Drama Department, stated the program would be "Green Room Reminiscences," a review of the early days of the Warren Players Club.

Mrs. Wallace Cowden, club president, reminded members of the CARE for Korea project, saying it is not necessary for each individual to subscribe the full amount of a CARE package, since partial contributions may be pooled.

The regular report for the public affairs committee was presented by Mrs. William H. Wright.

Mrs. Schorman then presented the guest speakers for the afternoon's program on Warren borough schools. Melvin G. Keller, president of the board of education, spoke on finances and building program; Superintendent Carl E. Whipple presented some of the improvements made in the past few years, and Gerald Newton, director of curriculum, overlapped some of Dr. Whipple's thought in giving curriculum improvements. At the conclusion of their most informative discussion, a question-and-answer period brought out additional facts about the schools and their present day program.

Mrs. Robert Voigt was hostess for the tea hour, with Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. Thomas J. Conway at the attractively set tea table.

PUMPKIN PROMENADE FOR THE HOLIDAY

Members of the Get Together Club extend a cordial invitation to all young people of the community to attend their Pumpkin Promenade, to be held at the YWCA activities building from 8:30 until 11:30 p. m. Thanksgiving Day. The Swanson-Wood band will be on hand for the music, refreshments will be available, and there will be a special gift award.

Saturday Is Deadline On Party Reservations

Members of Court Warren, Catholic Daughters of America, who plan to attend the organization's birthday party next Wednesday are reminded that Saturday has been set as the deadline for reservations.

The party will be held at 6:15 p. m. in the YWCA activities building and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Columbia Pasquino, 3276; Mrs. Phyllis Giunta, 815; Mrs. Rita Chapman, 1311-J; or Mrs. Mary Kotmair, 2189-M.

The program for the birthday party will include the guest speaker, Miss Frances Maher, of Kane, supreme regent of the order; James Cooney, as tenor soloist; Mrs. Donald Edinger and Mrs. Robert Thompson in a piano duet; and pupils of the Rapp Dance Studio in special entertainment. A large attendance is anticipated.

THANKSGIVING WEEK SERVICES AT SHEFFIELD

The Rev. O. R. Swanson of Sugar Grove, superintendent of the Middle East Conference of the Evangelical Mission Covenant, will speak during the special Thanksgiving Week services being held at the Mission church, 216 Church street, Sheffield, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. There will also be special musical talent and a time of enjoyable, informal congregational singing.

Marsh and Atkinson Rites Announced

Corydon, Nov. 21—Announcement is made of the marriage of Joyce Atkinson, of Lewis Run, and Chester Scott Marsh, of Rew, the Rev. Keith Perry, pastor of the Lewis Run Evangelical United Brethren church, performing the single ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and chrysanthemums.

Organ selections preceding the ceremony included "Clair de Lune," "Because" and "I Love You Truly," together with the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a frock of off-white wool crepe, trimmed with ecru lace and rhinestones. Her hat and accessories were of brown velvet and pink roses fashioned her corsage.

The reception following the ceremony was given in the church basement, where the bride's table was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake and candles. Guests were from Kane, Farmers Valley, Mt. Jewett, Rew, Olean and Bolivar Run.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh will reside in Derrick City. The bridegroom is a nephew of W. C. Marsh and Miss Teresa Marsh, Corydon.

Entertaining in honor of the bride-elect have been Mrs. Lucy Atkinson and Mrs. Margaret Bennett; Jean Atkinson; Mary O'Neil and Mrs. Louis Stidd, Mt. Jewett.

Wives Could Use Build-Up Men Give Their Secretaries

FIVE business and professional men were discussing their wives and all but one of them was bragging about what a he had. That one was moaning about the lame-brain he had hired, but kept up his part of the boasting by saying what a his last secretary had been and how everything had been in a since she left.

The praise was lavish. The appreciation earnest. And the discussion ended by one man's saying: "Well, I tell you it's mighty hard to a really good secretary—and once you've found one you're a s if you don't hold on to her. I always give mine a raise before gets around to asking for it. I don't want anyone hiring her from me."

It's a pity men don't take that attitude toward their wives. A will marvel at the way an inexperienced secretary can, after 4 years of holding down a job, get so competent that she could a run his business for him.

But not many men ever stop to marvel at how after a few years marriage his wife has managed to acquire all the skills required to run a home and keep a family healthy and happy.

LIKE TO BRAG ABOUT SECRETARIES

AND while a man with a competent secretary is wise enough to know that it behooves him to keep her happy, the same man never have thought in such terms about his wife.

Also men show no hesitation about bragging to the world about superiority of their secretaries. They back in the glory of their really bright young women running their offices.

But do they brag to the world about the bright young women are running their homes? Nope. Chances are they get a k delight out of trying to make the little woman look dumb.

Why this is so is hard to figure out. I doubt if even the secret who marries the boss has ever been able to explain it—once she up the job of secretary to become an unsung housewife.

McClintock PTA Plans For Christmas Events

Mrs. Robert Jaynes, conducted the November meeting of McClintock PTA at the school building Monday evening, appointed a committee of mothers to plan a Christmas candy treat for the youngsters of the building. Mrs. John Clicheuemoi heading the group.

Announcements were made concerning the annual Christmas program at the school, to be held on the evening of December 18 instead of the customary afternoon affair; also that second grade mothers will entertain in January, with Mrs. Joseph Lucia, Walnut street, as the chairman.

The third grade, taught by Mrs. Brenan, won the attendance award for the evening, after which Miss Dorothy Lincoln, former McClintock teacher and now Home Street principal, showed the beautiful colored slides taken on her trip to California this past summer.

Concluding, refreshments were served and a very successful hobbyazaar was conducted.

WILL SHOW PICTURES AT THOMPSON HILL

Lander, Nov. 21—All persons interested are cordially invited to attend a service to be held at the Thompson Hill school at 8:00 p. m. Saturday, when Rev. Harold Cartwright, Sunday school missionary, will be in charge and will present Mr. Appledorf, of Grand Rapids, Mich., to show pictures.

CHANGE OF PLANS AT YOUTH CANTINE

There has been a slight change in program plans in the Youth Canteen for the holiday, with only a record dance for members from 8:30 to 11:30 tonight instead of the orchestra dance announced previously. On Friday the Beauty students will hold their party as planned from 7:30 to 10:30 and Saturday there will be the regular dance from 8:30 to 11:30.

LITCHENBERGERS HAVE 47TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lichtenberger, Saybrook, celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary November 18 with a family dinner for which all their children were at home: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Check Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manestnick, Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Lichtenberger and son, Dennis, Bradford.

SUCCESSFUL PARTY

About 60 persons, teachers and their families, enjoyed the special pre-Thanksgiving dinner party arranged at the high school last evening by Joseph Passaro and his social committee.

IS HONORED WITH BIRTHDAY SURPRISE
Mrs. Iva Gantz was honored guest for a very pleasant birthday surprise party held November 17 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Verner Dugo, guests including her entire family, father, sister and 13 grandchildren. The table was centered with a beautifully decorated birthday cake, with yellow and lavender mums and candles completing the decorations.

The celebration continued on Sunday, with a birthday dinner served to 35 guests. The honored one received many beautiful gifts and a four-generation picture was taken to mark the event. Those from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wadsworth, Richard, Robert, Jack, Joan and Jean Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. T. Koch and son, Miss Lou White and Mr. Dugo, Pittsburgh; Calvin Kessler, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson and Judith Kessler, DuBois; Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Kessler, Buffalo, N. Y.

JAYCEE AUXILIARY PLANNING PARTIES

More than 20 members of the Jaycee Auxiliary attended the November meeting held at the YMCA, when plans were discussed for decorations for the Thanksgiving dance at the Marconi Outing Club and a Thanksgiving basket was packed for a local needy family.

Mrs. James Bailey announced final plans for the auxiliary's Christmas party December 10 when there will be an exchange of gifts and members will bring canned goods for packing another basket.

Concluding the evening, refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Alex Fino, and Mrs. Charles Tranter was awarded a special prize.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT FIRST LUTHERAN

A service of thanksgiving will be held in First Lutheran church at 9:30 a. m. Thursday, the order of matins to be used and Pastor E. K. Rogers preaching on "The Meaning of the Day." First church extends an invitation to all persons who wish to observe the purpose of the day to join in this service.

GUILD CARD PARTY

About 60 persons were in attendance for the very successful public card party held in the Youngsville Legion Home by the women of St. Francis' Episcopal Guild. Prize winners are reported as follows: Special award, M. V. Mills; contract bridge, Mrs. R. L. Mead and Mrs. Charles Spencer; auction bridge, Ross Bailey and Mrs. Cleveland Richards; canasta, M. V. Mills and Mrs. Margie Finlan, five hundred; Mrs. Minnie Putnam and Mrs. Ike Warner.

DISPLAYS NATIONAL DRESS—Mrs. Peter Baumanis, pictured here with her daughter, Maija, wears the Latvian national costume which she graciously loaned for the special display held last Sunday in Luther Memorial church in Erie. The exhibit was arranged by five Latvian families of the Erie area, along with the Baumanises, to mark the national holiday of their country in its existence as an independent nation between World Wars I and II.

Mrs. Baumanis, explaining her lavishly-embroidered costume to the photographer-reporter, says each Latvian community has its own distinctive style in dress and weaving patterns. With her wool dress, all hand-loomed in tartan style, she wears a hand-woven blouse and fringed scarf, amber beads found only in the Baltic Sea, and hand-worked silver ornaments. The scarf, with its bark-dyed thread for the gay embroideries, would take two months to fashion, it the maker worked eight-hour days at the task she states. The entire costume, at present day prices, is valued at approximately $1,500, Mrs. Baumanis estimates.

In direct contrast with the native dress, Miss Maija wears the school student attire of her adopted country, with a hand-worked silver pin at the mandarin neckline of her plaid frock.

LUDLOW

The American Legion Auxiliary observed Education Week during the special observance of Americanism Month, Friday morning when the organization sponsored two films during the chapel hour at Hamilton Township school. Mrs. Ray Swanson gave a short talk on Educational Revival. The Bell Telephone Company loaned the films to this group.

William Hanson, Leland Engman, Carl Benson, Virgil Nelson, Robert Johnson, and James Christenson from Ludlow motored to Punxsutawney Saturday night, to appear at the Elks' Club with the Kane Men's chorus in one of its concerts. Weather conditions were such that the group arrived late but gave their concert at midnight.

Pic. Donald Beckwith recently surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beckwith, when he arrived at their home after having spent two and a half years in Germany. He is on an 86 day pass. He has re-enlisted and will return to Germany.

The Covenant Mission Young People's Group motored to Warren Saturday evening to attend a Youth Rally at the Mission church. There were 15 in the Ludlow group. Misses Sylvia Carlson, Vivian Nelson, and Mary Jo Beckwith on the program in a vocal trio.

Moriah church held regular services Sunday morning with the Rev. Hans Pearson using as his sermon subject, "Awaiting His Coming," and the Woman's chorus using as its anthem, "Send Up a Prayer" by Howard. Flowers on the Altar were given in memory of Arthur Benson by his mother and sisters.

Announcement was made that the Thanksgiving service will be held at 10 a. m. with the offering to be given to Lutheran World Action. Announcement also was made that the Christmas service will be at 12 o'clock, Monday night, December 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wenstran, and Mrs. Eugene Huber were in attendance at the reception given Sunday afternoon at the Episcopalian church in Kane, to honor their new minister.

CARE Gift Replaces Membership Exchange

Mrs. Florence Tillotson was hostess to Blue Stocking Club members Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Locke, Conewango avenue. A short business session was conducted by the vice president, Miss Ethel Morris, the club voting to send another CARE package to Korea instead of exchanging Christmas gifts this year.

The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. N. S. Ramsey, a former resident of Warren county, who gave a very interesting account of old New England churches and meeting houses.

Following the program, the hostesses served tea at a beautifully arranged table, with Mrs. Warren Carlin and Mrs. Vance Weld presiding.

For the next meeting, December 4, the club will enjoy a tour through the Warren County Dairy, starting at 10:30 o'clock, with luncheon served in the dairy social rooms at 12:00. Miss Mabel Signans and Mrs. Warren Carlin will be the hostesses.

LEADERS' MEETING

The Girl Scout Leaders' Association will meet next Tuesday evening, 7:30 o'clock, in the dining room of First Presbyterian church, with the Johnson Neighborhood Club as hostess.

Those in charge of arrangements promise new songs and folk dances later in the evening and Mrs. Victor Spattfor will give a short talk on "Applying Badge Work to the program."

All leaders are urged to bring a "waste material craft" for the knick-knack table.

HENNE AND PHILLIPS MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Edward Albert Phillips, former Warren resident now living in Buffalo, N. Y., has announced the marriage of her daughter, Bethene, to Charles H. Henne, also of Buffalo, on Saturday, November 17. The newlyweds will reside at 193 Woodward avenue, Buffalo.

EPWORTH WSCS

Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, assistant probation officer for Warren county, will be guest speaker for the meeting of Epworth Methodist WSCS, to be held at the church at 7:45 p. m. Monday.

MARILYN FLEMING ON SINGING TOUR

Miss Marilyn Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fleming, 102 Quaker road, will be spending her Thanksgiving vacation as a member of the Choral Society of the University of Pennsylvania, which is the official chorus of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

This group will appear at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia November 23 and 24, and at Carnegie Music Hall, New York City, November 27, singing Verdi's Requiem, under the direction of Eugene Ormandy.

Miss Fleming is a junior in the School of Auxiliary Medicine at the University.

Owner Selling Dwelling Gets A Kick Under the New Federal Tax Law

New federal income tax law means if you bought a house 10 years ago for $10,000 and sell today for $20,000, you have to give Uncle Sam a capital gains tax out of $10,000 profit. That is, you have to pay it, if you use all the money in the purchase of another house to live in.

Experienced observers expect this to result in a big stimulation to the house market.

For example, Henry J. Davenport, president of the Home Title Guaranty Co., of New York, which operates in the three states of Connecticut, New Jersey and New York—an area in which many thousands of titles change hands yearly—sees this new law freeing many families who have been prevented from buying new homes because of the tax handicap involved.

"Many families needing larger homes have found the capital gains tax an insurmountable obstacle," Mr. Davenport says, "because increasing building costs and lower purchasing power of the dollar have offset whatever net profit

Letters to the Editor

Editor of Times Mirror,
Dear Sir:
Now that the Christmas season is drawing so near again, and the borough employees are busy decorating the streets and lawns, it's a happy and exciting decorating time for us all and I for one, am hoping to have the privilege of a drive around the streets to see the beautiful Christmas scenes that so many have put real work on, and deserve real credit. I believe that we all agree the children all love the chimney scenes with the Santa Claus, and that means "Christmas was available on an older house." The new law exempts any place of "principal residence" from this penalty. It covers a houseboat, or trailer, or stock in a co-operative apartment corporation, provided it is your principal residence.

A big leeway in time is allowed. You can sell your old house as much as a year before or after you buy, and still get the exemption. Any house sold after last December 31 is qualified for the exemption. This embraces all houses sold this year.

If you are having a new house built, you are allowed 18 months for applying your profit without tax, but you must occupy the newly-built house within 18 months after selling your old house.

The price in the sale or purchase under this exemption includes mortgage, trust deed or other indebtedness to which the property may be subject, whether or not the purchaser assumes that indebtedness.

If part of either property is used for business or trade, such as a store under an apartment, the exemption applies only to that proportion relating to residence.

Any part of the profit not invested in a new place of residence naturally is subject to tax. If the house you paid $10,000 for is sold for $20,000 and you buy a house for $15,000, the $5,000 difference is subject to tax.

However, you don't have to be occupying the house at the time of sale or purchase. If you rent either the old house or new house for a short time, but occupy each as your residence before the time limit expires, you are eligible for the exemption.

Real estate speculators are excluded from the benefits, because a third purchase takes into account the profits on the second purchase, the house must be used for residence, and short-term (six months) capital gains are still taxed at 50 per cent. The exemption applies to only one sale or exchange per year, except when a new residence is voluntarily converted, such as through condemnation.

Personal property, furniture, a radio, or any other appurtenance which is not considered a fixture, is not included in the calculation.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards cites the new provision as a victory in its six years of campaigning in Washington. Alexander Summer, president of that organization, says "the injustice of the old law was spotlighted this year as workers were forced to move from one city to another as a result of the mobilization program."

And there is another feature of friendliness for which I am grateful and that is the practice of sending greeting cards to the shut-ins. It brings sunshine and comfort and I wish herewith to express my thanks to the host of friends for remembering me in various ways.

"A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

THANKSGIVING—An Old American Custom

The first American Harvest Festival, the forerunner of Thanksgiving, was held by the Pilgrims 330 years ago, in October 1621. However, it was not until 1864 that Lincoln "appointed and set aside" the last Thursday in November as a day of national thanksgiving. By recent proclamation, it's the 4th Thursday in November.

This year, as always, this most favored of nations has many sound reasons for thanksgiving.

YMCA-City League Basketball Schedule For First Half Is Announced; Games to Get Loop Under Way Will Start On Next Monday Night

Bowhunters Gather For Southern Tier Federation Dinner

The Warren Archery Club was well represented by local archers and their wives at the Southern Tier Bowhunters Federation banquet, at the administration building in Allegany State Park, N. Y.

This was the third annual event where local and surrounding archers gather every year for a seasonal turkey dinner and to present awards to the archers who have made the highest total scores for tournaments shot during the season.

First place award in the expert class went to Hans Forester, Eden, N. Y. Hans is a veteran archer and the founder of the S. T. B. H. Federation. First place awards were presented, also, to the members in the following divisions: Joseph Shurilla, Custer City, bowmen class; All Crooks, Bradford, archer class; Donald Adams, Warren, junior class. Alice Crooks, recently crowned women's division champion of the Bradford Archers, again came through to win the women's class.

Joe West, reporter for radio station WBEN was guest speaker of the evening. A veteran archer, he gave interesting and humorous experiences encountered while hunting with a bow and arrow.

Color pictures were shown by a Warren man, Sherry Adams of this year's National Field Tournament held at Watkins Glen, N. Y., and of several other tournaments which many present had attended.

The following federation officers were elected for the year 1952: Hans Forester, Eden, N. Y., president; Bruce McKittrick, Bradford, secretary - treasurer; Gene Williams, Clearfield, vice-president; Frank Gelotte, Warren, range captain.

Water is the most used liquid in the chemical industry; sulphuric acid ranks second.

YMCA-City Basketball League officials have announced the following schedule for the first-half, with opening games slated for this Monday.

First games listed begin at 7 o'clock and the second games at 8 o'clock.

Penn State Ready For Its 51st Game With Pitt Panthers

State College, Nov. 21—Coach Rip Engle, who came through with a 21-20 victory in his first visit to Pittsburgh a year ago, hopes to make it two in a row when his Penn State Nittany Lions face the Panthers at Pitt Stadium Saturday. It will be the 51st meeting in a rivalry which dates back to 1893.

Consecutive successes against Pitt are few and far between in Penn State history. Last time the Lions turned the trick was during the early 40's, when Bob Higgins led his team to wins in 1941, 1942 and 1943. Previously, the Lions had not put two wins together since 1908 and 1909, and earlier, in 1905 and 1906.

Pitt boasts an overwhelming advantage in the series with 29 wins to Penn State's 19. Only stalemates in the series were the scoreless ties of 1920 and 1921. This game traditionally closes the season for both teams, although this year Pitt will close against the University of Miami the following week.

Fine Entertainment Provided Guests At K. of C. 'Open House'

It was open house, last evening, when the Knights of Columbus entertained members of the 1951 Warren High School football squad, the coaching staff, team physician Dr. F. G. Haines, sons of K. of C. members and a few other guests in the K. of C. rooms in Second avenue.

Highlight of the evening was the presence of Joe Kurth, former all-American at Notre Dame, who kept the group interested with his informal talk on football at Notre Dame, covering a period of several years, and his description of the great Knute Rockne as a man, a friend, and a coach. He was introduced by Sam Gerardi, chairman of the committee which arranged the event.

Motion pictures of most of the Notre Dame games during the 1949 season, including a good running comment, were shown. The boys were enthusiastic over the entire evening's program, especially a sumptuous repast which was served in the chapter room and to which they were invited to help themselves, not once but many times as they wished.

Kurth paid a glowing tribute to J. B. Leidig, director of athletics at Warren High school and for the past 40 years football coach.

Albright, Lincoln Gettysburg Named As Likely Winners

Philadelphia, Nov. 21—(P)—Now that the football season's just about over, we appear to have hit our stride in calling the shots on the state's football games.

It is truly written: Better late than never. Last week's mark of 18 and 4 hoists the average for the year. .722 on 179 correct selections, and 89 bad ones, with six ties. Here's the windup:

Thanksgiving
Gettysburg at Franklin and Marshall: This Turkey Day tussle is the big one in determining successful seasons for the opposing forces. It should be very close, with a narrow edge to Gettysburg. Lincoln vs. Howard at Philadelphia: Two of the nation's foremost Negro colleges match wits in a traditional get-together. Both clubs are strong, and it's strictly a tossup. On a hunch, Lincoln.

West Chester vs. Albright: No holds barred here. It's Albright's strong defense against the Prender-Hersh offensive threat for West Chester. In a close one, Albright.

Lebanon Valley vs. Morris Harvey (Burley Bowl at Johnson City, Tenn.): Lou Sorrentino's passes will make the difference. Lebanon Valley.

Saturday
Cornell at Pennsylvania: Penn must win this one to prevent the first losing season under George Munger. Besides, Cornell never has beaten Penn four times in a row. That's more than enough incentive. Penn.

Penn State at Pitt: Having tasted victory last week, the Pitt Panther is a bloodthirsty creature. Nothing tastes better to that Panther than the Nittany Lion. Ipo facto: Pitt.

Temple at Holy Cross: The Crusaders are just too tough for the Owls. Holy Cross.

Villanova at Louisiana State: The Wildcats lost the one they were supposed to win last week; let's predict that they'll win the one they're supposed to lose. Villanova.

And, to wind up the season, Tulsa over Villanova on December 1 and Miami, Fla., over Pitt on December 7. P. S.: At Philadelphia, December 1, it's Army over Navy—and by plenty.

Hengst Organizes Basketball Leagues at YMCA to Include Younger Boys; Games, Friday

With young boys' fancy turning to basketball this time of the year, James Hengst, boys' work secretary of the YMCA, is trying to fill their desire by organizing three junior leagues in the "Y".

For boys in senior high school, an Older Boys' League will be set up, while already organized are the Junior YMCA-Church League, for teeny boys, and the YMCA-Grade School League, for the younger set.

Teams in the first of the latter two leagues are all set to start practice games on the "Y" floor

Saturday morning the Pitt meeting Penn State at 12 and Temple clashing with the University of Pennsylvania at 1:30. John Trusser captains the team; Dick Koehley, Penn Jim Gibson, Temple; and Stephens, the Penn team.

Grade school teams get practice sessions underway morning starting at 9 o'clock East Street No. 1 tangle South Street. Lacy and Stock will play the second game 9:45, and at 10:30 Johnson East Street No. 2.

NCAA Policy Council Clamps Football Lid

Chicago, Nov. 21—(P)—A straitjacket for overemphasis of collegiate sports has been devised by the NCAA policy-making council for national adoption.

Rigid controls that would strengthen academic standards, provide an antidote for professionalism, combat recruiting, and in general, put a lid on pressures to win at any cost, were drafted by the all-powerful council after a two-day session.

The council ordered a moratorium throughout 1952 on contractual commitments for post-season events such as bowl games. A special study will be made to determine the degree of pressure post-season sports, especially bowl games, creates in the build up of overemphasis.

BOXER INJURED

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 21—(P)—A young heavyweight boxer was in critical condition in a hospital today suffering from a brain hemorrhage after being knocked out in a boxing bout last night.

Surgeons said an operation may be necessary for the boxer, Lorraine Cole, 24, of St. Paul, Minn.

Cole was knocked out in the fourth round of a preliminary bout by Bunny Roetter, of Stillwater, Minn. Cole was leading on points up to the knockout punch. When he failed to respond, artificial respiration was administered in the ring and he was removed to St. Mary's Hospital.

Albright Seniors Face Final

Reading, Nov. 21—Five on Albright college's football team will end their collegiate careers when the Roaring Lions pose West Chester Teachers' first annual shrine Pretzel football game, Saturday afternoon at Reading Municipal Stadium.

Heading the list are Clint Tom Savage and Carmine Tom Savage, former Park, N. J., high school all-stars who have been used as defensive linemen, and has been pressed into service as a ball carrier. Mike of Glen Cove, N. Y., is a guttural offense, who also has taken turns with the defensive unit.

Quarterback Chauncey North Wales; End Gerry Shillington; and Tackle Walzek, of Trenton, N. J., at three other senior starters will make their farewell.

Californian Teacher Player of the Year

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—(P)—Elmo Nattali, hard-running 195-pound fullback for California Teachers, today was named "Teacher College Player of the Year" and was voted to one of the 11 spots on the 1951 Associated Press All-Teacher College football team.

Nattali was joined by a California teammate, end Mitch Bailey; two players each from Bloomsburg and West Chester and one apiece from Shippensburg, Millersville, Clarion, Slippery Rock and Indiana on the first team.

Wiggers, Rockets Win Practice Tilts In YM-City League

YMCA-City League practice games closed out last night with Wiggers Chevrolet nosing out Paul's Atlantic 38-34 in an overtime and the Rockets edging out Texas Lunch 45-43.

The Youngville Ave. paced by Lefty Height with 12, counters, staged a 15-point last quarter rally to tie the score 35-35 and then went on to outscore Atlantic 3-1 in the extra period. Robertson and Fran Olson were high men for the losers with 11 and 10 points.

It was nip and tuck ball game all the way between the Rockets and Texas Lunch with a tie, 25-25, score going into the final stanza, when the victors picked up their two-point victory margin.

Jim Peterson matched scoring honors again, finding the hoop for a big 20 points, while Joe Scialie swished 16 for Texas Lunch.

Regular league competition will get started next Monday night.

Two Car Accidents Are Investigated By The Borough Police

Two automobile accidents have been reported to city police, one occurring early yesterday morning and the other on Monday.

One person was slightly injured.

At 7:50 a. m. yesterday, on Pennsylvania avenue, east, near the Emblem Oil Company offices, cars operated by Henry D. Peterson, Warren RD 1, and Donald Smith, Bauer street extension, collided.

Henry A. Peterson sustained bruises of the head from contact with a car window. He was given first aid but not hospitalized.

According to the police report, Peterson was proceeding west on Pennsylvania avenue and stopped to let a bus pass before making a turn into the driveway of the Emblem Oil Company. While stopped, his vehicle was struck in the rear by the Smith car.

Damage to Peterson's car was estimated at $60, and to Smith's car about $275.

Monday, at 11:30 a. m., cars operated by R. L. Dickerson, 27 Swiss street, and Lloyd F. Rapp, 110 Dartmouth street, collided at Pennsylvania and Dartmouth. No one was injured.

The police report stated that Dickerson was driving east on Pennsylvania avenue, and Rapp south on Dartmouth. Because of the icy condition of the road, Rapp was unable to stop before entering Pennsylvania avenue, and struck the Dickerson car. Damage was estimated at $60 to Rapp and $219 to Dickerson.

Chief of Police Mike Evan said that officers are investigating the theft of a 12-inch blower fan valued at $35 from a stove at the Lamphite Diner.

The theft was reported to police yesterday about noon, and the owner, Mrs. L. J. Collins, told police that two men had been in the diner about 6:45 a. m. and ordered breakfast. They were the only patrons in the place at the time, she said.

They asked if the heat was on, and went to the stove to see. No attention was paid to the men inasmuch as they had been there before, although she did not know their names. She was unable to give a description to police.

Later, when the blower was to be used for drying the floor after cleaning, she discovered that three bolts which held it to the stove were laying on the floor behind the stove, and the fan was gone. She noticed that one of the men had an overcoat over his arm when he paid his check to leave, and the supposition is that the blower was concealed under the coat.

Chief Evan said two suspects were picked up and questioned yesterday, but no arrests had been made as yet.

The jury hearing the case of C. G. Mann Company vs. Joseph A. and Jane L. Bevevino yesterday found that the defendant was to pay the plaintiff's claim. Today, the case of Commercial Credit Corporation vs. Frank Mitchell, replevin, is being heard.

DP'S ARE PRAISED
Frank Boal, secretary of the displaced persons program in Pennsylvania, said today that DP's are coming into the state at the rate of about 1,000 a month and that nearly all of them are proving a credit to the areas in which they settle. The Pennsylvania commission on displaced persons was set up in 1948. It has been assisted in the task of finding jobs and homes for DP's by state church groups and foreign aid societies. A survey indicating the number of DP's in various counties shows there are 61 in Warren county.

MAKES THE COMICS
P. L. Smetanka, 8 Parker street, is given credit in this morning's comic section of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette for the origination of today's "There Ought to be a Law" by Fagaly and Shotten. Mr. Smetanka suggested to the artists that the young lady who assures her somewhat backward suitor that she wouldn't care "if we lived in a hut or on a park bench as long as we're together" and then tells the interior decorator, "Now I'll want wall to wall carpeting and the living room done in Chinese modern, . . ." etc., be taken to task. The cartoonists did so.

Veteran Grocer Is Seriously Injured In Fall on Sidewalk

Lewis A. Lohnes, 72, of 2 New Court place, was removed to Buffalo General Hospital at 10 a. m. today in the Gibson ambulance after having suffered a fractured right hip at 2:45 p. m. Tuesday when he fell on the icy sidewalk in front of his grocery store at 305 Hickory street.

Mr. Lohnes' fall occurred as he was carrying purchases to a customer's car, and he was taken to Warren General Hospital in the Gibson ambulance where the extent of his injuries was determined. At the hospital this morning his condition was said to be fair.

Mr. Lohnes has operated the Hickory street store for 18 years, the establishment being known for its wide variety of rare delicacies not easily obtained elsewhere.

Prior to opening the store, he was located for two years in the old Market house off Liberty street, after having been associated for many years with the old firm of Kopf and Heiry.

Mr. Lohnes' son, W. F. Lohnes of 1628 Chislett street, Pittsburgh, arrived in Warren last night after being notified of his father's mishap. He was engaged today in closing the grocery store, at least temporarily, and said that several offers for the store are being considered. Mr. Lohnes, Sr., had been considering the sale of the store during the past few weeks. He is the oldest independent grocer in Warren.

Mrs. William Dadey (Anna-belle Lohnes), 578 Ellicott street, Buffalo, is Mr. Lohnes' daughter and expected to be at the Buffalo hospital upon his arrival there today. Mrs. Lohnes passed away about a year ago.

Pennsy Officer At Oil City Is Dead

Oil City, Nov. 21.—William H. Colegrove, 56, well-known Pennsylvania railroad police officer, died suddenly in his home in Seneca at 9:15 p. m. Tuesday.

An employee of the PRR for 40 years, he was transferred from Buffalo to Oil City in 1937 and made hundreds of friends through his interest in athletic activities.

Last summer he was manager of the Eagles baseball team which won the Little League championship, and in his younger days he engaged in many sports.

Colegrove was a veteran of World War I, enlisting June 2, March 31, 1918. A member of Co. H, 108th Infantry, he participated in six major engagements and was wounded in action.

Price Control Law On Manufacturers' Machinery Outlined

The Office of Price Stabilization has ordered the general manufacturers' and machinery regulations to become mandatorily effective December 19, and has made provision in them for optional adjustment of ceilings under the Capehart amendment to the price control law.

Joseph J. McBryan, regional OPS director for Pennsylvania, Delaware and southern New Jersey, estimated that the adjustment provision potentially affects some 18,000 manufacturers in the region.

In asking for ceiling price adjustments manufacturers may, under the Capehart provision, include some costs not originally permitted, and use a later cut-off date (July 26, 1951).

Director of Price Stabilization Michael V. DiSalle said that "undoubtedly the supplements and General Overriding Regulations will result in some increases in manufacturers' ceilings."

"We have no choice under the amended Defense Production Act," said Mr. DiSalle, "but to allow manufacturers, if they wish, to adjust their ceilings. We fought the amendment because we believed it would spur inflationary pressures and because we believed that it presented tremendously complex administrative problems, both for the agency and industry. While the senate voted overwhelmingly to revise the Capehart amendment and make it more workable from an administrative standpoint, action by the rules committee kept the house from considering the amendment before adjournment."

"We must, therefore, put these supplements and General Overriding Regulations into effect, even though they will result in higher ceilings on many industrial products. We have made these supplementary regulations as workable as possible, but they will involve complex calculations by manufacturers choosing to use them."

"Letters to various divisions of CPS strongly indicate that many companies will avail themselves of the provision of the supplementary regulations. These interim manufacturing regulations, which reflected changes only in manufacturing costs, were considered fair and reasonable to buyers and sellers alike, but we are compelled under the amended act to take into account all cost changes from pre-Korea to July 26, 1951."

"Within the limitations allowed by the amended act, we are, however, requiring manufacturers applying under the Capehart amendment to reflect decreases in costs, if any, occurring before July 26, 1951."

The National Forest system in the West, by reason of its being largely confined to mountainous areas, contains vast quantities of valuable minerals.

The policy of the Forest Service has always been to encourage the orderly development and use of this mineral wealth through the very liberal mining laws which enable bona fide prospectors to locate and develop both placer and lode claims inside the National Forest boundaries.

Timber located on the claim can be used free of charge in the development of the claim, but until patent is made may not be sold by the claimant.

Certain abuses of the spirit and intent of the mining laws are of course inherent in a system which requires great freedom in the exercising of its provisions, otherwise much needed minerals would never be discovered.

Unfortunately, the fact that the mineral laws permit the acquisition of valuable surface rights, in addition to subsurface mineral rights, paves the way to abuses by certain unscrupulous individuals, which are not in the public interest.

There have been instances where a prospector, having had advance information concerning the proposed location of a highway through the National Forest, will stake out a mining claim along the proposed route, where there is just a negligible amount of mineral, and end up with a patented mining claim with a gas station or tourist cabins constructed on it as his source of livelihood rather than a developed and productive mine.

In many cases such "phony" claims are discovered by forest officers and contested as not being bona fide claims and they are never patented. However, the burden of proof as to the intent of the claimant rests upon the shoulders of the investigator.

The task force for the Hoover Commission recognized the need for a revision of the U. S. mining laws, and made some worthwhile recommendations which, if adopted, would go a long way toward solving problems in national forest administration, which abuses of the present liberal mining laws encourage.

Some idea of the magnitude of the problem can be realized when it is pointed out that mining claims may include up to 160 acres of surface rights, following patent, and there are some 73,000 of these mining locations on your western National Forest. These claims cover nearly 2 million acres, and yet less than 3 percent of all these 73,000 locations are producing minerals in commercial quantities.

DOG'S ORIGIN

Origin of the dog is rather obscure. Most important ancestor of the modern dog seems to have been the wolf. Mixed with other wild canines, an independent species developed. Cave drawings made by men of the Old Stone Age show hunters with a dog-like animal. By the time the New Stone Age opened, there were true domesticated dogs.

Christmas Club Checks Totalling $451,291 Mailed by Local Banks

Clearing House Association Reveals That Deposits Exceed Figures in 1949 by $93,313.85

Christmas savings account checks in the amount of $1,291.25 were mailed today to 5,631 participants by Warren's three banks, The First National Bank, Warren National Bank, and the Warren Bank and Trust Company.

Figures revealed today by the Warren Clearing House Association, representing all three banks, revealed that Christmas savings deposits this year were $93,313.85 greater than in 1949 and that there were 840 more accounts this year than in 1949.

In 1950, the gross amount was $418,650.25, with 5,459 accounts, and in 1949 the total was $401,112.00 with 5,323 accounts.

This year's average Christmas savings check is $80.14.

The steady increase in the number of Christmas savings depositors is indicative of a similar trend wherever the service is available. Many cities not only do not offer the service, but never have. For example, Christmas savings accounts are almost unheard-of in adjacent Maryland.

The distribution in Warren is part of a nation-wide total of $952,000,000 shared by 10,875,000 members, the Christmas Club headquarters in New York announced.

A survey by the Club recently indicated that 38 per cent of the savings will be spent for Christmas purchases and at 27 per cent will go into permanent savings. The remainder will be used to pay year-end bills, insurance premiums, mortgages, taxes, or will be expended for education and other miscellaneous items.

Need for Caution On Part of Vehicle Drivers Emphasized

Harrisburg—All motor vehicle owners in the state were called upon today by T. Elmer Transeau, Director of Highway Safety, to join in a "mutual defense pact" against the danger-filled attacks of snow, sleet and ice to be launched soon by Old Man Winter.

"If we are adequately prepared for the early phases of the annual battle with this ancient foe, we stand a better chance of completing the entire cold season without casualties," Transeau commented.

"Most car owners feel that getting their vehicle ready for winter is simply a case of driving into their favorite service station, and having the lights and battery checked, oil and grease changed to lighter grade, and radiator protected with anti-freeze.

"That's a good start, but to put up a successful fight against the sneak attacks of Jack Frost, windshield wipers and defrosters must be functioning perfectly. The National Safety Council reports that in one out of five fatal accidents, the driver's vision was obscured, and often the obscurement is freezing rain, snow or sleet.

"Brakes should be checked for simultaneous gripping, tires should be kept at normal pressures, and anti-skid chains should be carried for quick use whenever severe snow and ice conditions develop.

"Return of synthetic rubber tires which skid and spin more on snow or ice, make tire chains more important for avoiding accidents and traffic delays on even relatively slight grades during bad weather.

"Tabulations of the National Safety Council have shown that the winter automobile death rate is consistently greater than the summer rate in states having ice and snow.

"Instead of letting Old Man Winter surprise us as motorists this year, let's surprise him by pledging to winterize driving habits and take the best care of our vehicles. New cars are harder to get, hospitals are crowded and in these times of war-taxes we can ill afford smashups.

"Taking our mutual assistance pact seriously, we will then drive at reasonable speeds, maintain safe margins between cars, avoid any quick changes in direction, use chains when needed, and be alert for pedestrians. An ounce of prevention is worth 10 pounds of cure at this time."

Advice on the Selection and Preparation of Thanksgiving Turkey from County Expert

Turkey for Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's is traditional, whether it comes from your own flock, you buy your own bird, or manage to bring down the wild variety as did Rex White and Fred Irwin.

Judge the size of the bird by the number of servings you want, allowing one-half pound of ready-to-cook turkey for each serving. Of course, Rex and Fred didn't bother with this technicality, they took what they could get and were well satisfied!

Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, home economics representative for Warren county, suggests that when you shop for your bird you look for one that has clean, waxy skin with no bruises or discolorations. Choose a bird that is generally plump in appearance and that has streaks of fat under the skin. A hard breast indicates a meaty bird and a flexible kneecap is one sign of a young bird.

Mrs. Johnston advises stuffing your turkey just before roasting. Allow one cup of stuffing for each pound of turkey.

After you stuff and truss the bird, rub the skin thoroughly with melted fat. This holds moisture in the turkey and aids in browning. It's not necessary to baste the bird when you cover it with a fat-moistened piece of cheesecloth or other thin cloth.

Place the turkey, breast side down, on a rack in a shallow pan, and roast uncovered. If you use a flatrack, turn the bird during roasting so the other side of the breast rests on the rack. In either case, turn the breast up to finish cooking and browning.

A test for doneness is to press the thickest part of a drumstick with your fingers. Turkey is done when meat feels soft or leg joint moves or breaks easily when you move drumstick up and down. Don't prick meat with a fork.

The following is a guide to roasting time for stuffed turkey:

Weight	Oven Temp.	Cooking Hrs.
8 to 10 lbs.	325°F.	3 to 3½
10 to 14 lbs.	325°F.	3½ to 4
14 to 18 lbs.	300°F.	4 to 4½
20 lbs.	300°F.	5 to 6

An unstuffed turkey takes about 5 minutes per pound less roasting time.

Household Gifts Are Always Useful

Household gifts appear an almost everyone's list because they're useful. A set of six table mats and center mat are all made of burlap, have an expensive look because of their trim.

Try gull-gray burlap bordered with bushy brown cotton fringe. One-half inch in from the edge of the mat, sew another border of the brown rope trim. These mats, by the way, will launder readily. You'll want two yards of the burlap and 13 of the bushy cotton fringe plus 11 yards of the cord rope.

Lots of people will get guest towels as gifts this year. But if you want your towel gifts to have originality, buy them in a vivid, glowing color and edge them in cotton-knotted cream bedspread fringe. You'll need a yard.

Shopping for Gifts for Men Is Always a Puzzling Project

Women, shopping for Christmas gifts for men, find the job just as puzzling as do men, shopping for gifts for women.

One temptation is to buy a man a half dozen shirts just because he happens to need them.

Another temptation is to come right out and ask the man what he wants but this somehow, takes the surprise element out of Christmas morning. It scarcely seems worth the bother of wrapping it up if he knows just what he's going to get.

Actually, it is quite possible to buy a man a gift that he'll like, that will surprise him and at a price that isn't staggering.

Most men use, or would like to use, after-shave talc. When talc comes packaged in a black box topped by a tan suede cuff, you've a gift with originality. The box can hold pencils or cigarettes when it's empty, making it twice as useful.

The house that makes it also packages a fine shaving soap in a flat, horseshoe-shaped clear glass container that's grooved ready for new use as an ash tray.

For the man who travels a lot, there's a new travel kit in a wavy-plaid that holds six unbreakable squeeze bottles containing shave lotion, talc, cologne, spray deodorant, brushless shave cream and hairdressing. And there's plenty of room for a razor, toothbrush and other essentials.

A lighter is always a good gift for a man. When it's a butane lighter that boasts a disposable butane cartridge good for more than two thousand lights, it's a Merry Christmas indeed. Two cartridges last the average smoker a year and the lighter comes in satin-finished chrome or in gold or silver plate.

Getting back to this matter of shirts, they're a fine Christmas gift when they're not run-of-the-mill. No man ever has enough, just as no woman ever has enough hats.

An authentic clan tartan pattern in all-viscose rayon that's completely washable makes the ideal gift shirt.

Penn'a Week Here Is Unusually Successful

Reports from individual buildings of the Warren borough school system indicate the observance of American Week was one of the most successful ever carried out in this community.

Attendance estimates made by the various principals and filed in the office of Superintendent Carl E. Whipple show the following figures:

East street, 250; Home street, 125; Johnson, 145; Lacy, 125; McClintock, 175; Seneca, 50; South, 165; High school, 350; Beatty Junior High, 460, for a total of 1,845.

CHRISTMAS CARD ETIQUETTE—When selecting your card, pick or make one which looks like you. Don't let it be too sophisticated, but on the other hand do not select a flippant card for this most important day. You should sign it "Mary Jones" or "Mary" depending on how well you know the person. Above all, do not make the mistake of signing it with a boy-friend—such as "Mary and Joe." Current etiquette rules give an o.k. in certain instances to an engaged couple who wish to sign their names on a mutual card. As a concession to "southpaws" banks are now making left-hand checkbooks.

Bring The Kiddies To Visit

SANTA

All In Readiness For Turning On Of The Festive Lights

Placement of the last of the overhead Christmas street lighting decorations was accomplished on Tuesday evening, according to Nat Drake, secretary of the Warren Chamber of Commerce.

"All is in readiness for the turning-on ceremony which will take place during the lighting ceremony parade," Mr. Drake said today, and named the following locations where the festive lights have been installed by members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Union Locals 174 and 31124 AFI: Pennsylvania avenue, east, at Crescent street, Pennsylvania avenue, east, at Franklin street, Pennsylvania avenue, east, at Conewango avenue, Pennsylvania avenue, west, at Water street, Pennsylvania avenue, west, at Market street, mid-block on Pennsylvania avenue between Market and Liberty streets, Pennsylvania avenue, west, at Liberty street, Liberty street at Second avenue, mid-block on Liberty street between Second and Third avenues, Hickory street at Third avenue, Pennsylvania avenue, west, at Poplar street, mid-block on Pennsylvania avenue, west, between Poplar and Hickory streets, Pennsylvania avenue, west, at Hickory street, and two installations in the triangle.

The parade to turn on the lights led by Ben Kinnear, chairman of the Retailers' committee, will follow a line of march indicated in the order in which the installations have been named.

FREE DECORATIONS—Pretty tree decorations can be made by mixing 1 cup of granule-type detergent and 4 tablespoons of plaster of Paris. This should be stirred vigorously and then whipped with an egg beater to froth up solution to a consistency of marshmallow sauce. It is spread on props with a knife or parlay tube. The goo can be coated over pencil stubs to make them look like icicles, or coated on a bunch of drinking straws which have been tied in the middle—fan-like—pretzels, curtain rings, coiled picture wire, pipe cleaners, clothes pins, pine cones and old thread spools. Any of these things can be further decorated by sprinkling them with sparkles, sequins, beads, artificial flowers. Lipstick, nailpolish and ink can be used to give the final fillip. You'll find ways to anchor wire or ribbon or curtain hooks to any of these things so that they can be hung on the tree.

About 500 classes of products in 100,000 variations of sizes, shapes, and finishes, are produced by the steel industry.

Yuletide Harbingers to Turn On Christmas Lights Friday

Santa Will Join C. of C. Retailers' Committee For Brief Parade and Ceremony

If that sometimes flighty weather man gives the Retailers' committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce an even break, the holiday lights on the borough streets will be turned on in style, Friday afternoon, by a band of Christmas harbingers.

Plans of the committee call for a procession to form on Pennsylvania avenue, east, at Crescent street, at 3 p. m. Friday and move eastward on Pennsylvania avenue, turning on the lights wherever an arrangement has been installed.

It is planned that Ben Kinnear, chairman of the committee, will be in a borough police car driven by Chief Mike Evan, and they will turn on the lights as the parade moves across town. In the second car will ride Santa Claus, who will take time off from his pre-Christmas visit to the Metzger's right store, Burgess William Rossett, Chamber of Commerce resident Ray W. Steber, and council President William E. Rice, with Secretary Nat Drake at the wheel. Byron W. Knapp, civic affairs chairman of the Chamber, will drive the second car in which will be Ed C. Lowrey, editor of the Times-Mirror, Borough Manager L. M. McConnell, and William Lannon, sub chairman of the Retailers' committee.

Weather permitting, the Warren high school band will follow the parade and it is expected the procession will be completed with their cars carrying members of the Retailers' committee.

The modern candle-lighters will top at the lighting installations at mid sections and intersections along Pennsylvania avenue and will turn up Liberty street to Third avenue, west to Poplar, south to Pennsylvania avenue and east to the triangle where the participants will be dismissed.

Mr. Drake said today that the work of installing the lights has been completed, except for placing large neon stars at Crescent street, on Pennsylvania avenue near Liberty street, and at the diamond. This work has been done by members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Union Locals 174 and B1124 AFL.

With several new installations this year, Warren residents will see a more complete display than ever before, which is something they wished for over a period of many years but feared they never would have. The Retailers' committee, the electricians who have donated their work, and any others responsible for the success of the plan, are to be highly complimented.

Mr. Drake said today that good weather is all that is needed to make the lighting ceremony a success, but also stated that the band's participation and perhaps the entire gesture might have to be abandoned in case of a storm.

In Italy, pedestrians are compelled to cross roads at specified points and are arrested and fined for failure to do so.

PROMOTED—James J. Scallise, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Scallise, 9 Canton street, is among cadets of the ROTC unit at Youngstown College, Youngstown, O., who have been promoted to commissioned cadet grades and have been assigned to their duties and organizations, according to Lt. Col. Robert S. Stacey, head of the department of military science and tactics at the college. Scallise, senior in the School of Business Administration and a major in advertising, was promoted to the rank of cadet first lieutenant.

"GAS" LIGHT

A candle light "goes out" when you blow it, because you blow away the gases which feed the flame. In lighting a candle, the match must be held to the wick long enough for the wax to begin to melt and form gases.

Safe Holiday Driving Urged for Motorists

Revenue Secretary Otto F. Messner, chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee, today warned Pennsylvania's motorists lest the characteristic joy of Thanksgiving be snuffed out by a traffic crash.

"It is always tragic when death steps in to sadden a whole family," he said. "But somehow it seems even worse when it happens at a time when people are giving thanks for their many blessings."

The secretary pointed out that each Thanksgiving holiday period in recent years has brought bereavement to the loved ones of 35 persons killed in motor vehicle accidents in this state.

"With many more machines traveling many more miles than ever before," he declared, "the prospect is for an even grimmer record this year."

He urged that motorists start out in plenty of time to reach their destination without speeding, that they heed safety regulations, and that they keep their attention strictly on the business of driving.

"Just an instant's lapse in caution," he warned, "is enough to cause a bad wreck."

WE OWE THANKS

In these times many men find much to decry and deplore in American life. And any fair scanning of the national horizon must produce proof that the laments are largely justified.

Yet we may be profoundly thankful for one thing. The nation's elemental character is untarnished. Its devotions have not lost their fire. Human dignity and freedom, individual integrity and resourceful accomplishment are still revered.

Were it not so, would anyone rise to decry and deplore?

The year 1951 has unfolded more than one unhappy chapter in the American story. Moral laxity has shown itself all too common in quarters as varied as the government council room, the sports arena, the home.

Fundamentals of freedom have been put in jeopardy by people who say they are defending liberty.

In the crisis of limited war and threat of wider war, groups in our society have chosen not to submerge traditional jealousies and conflicts in a common cause, but to lift them up. Here and there the special interest has been glorified as the national interest—by men of narrow view.

Nevertheless, the great, wholesome, heartening fact is that none of this has been allowed to occur without stirring protest. A mantle of indifference has cloaked some of us—but never all. The nation's conscience has yielded neither its identity nor its vigor.

Every important digression from service to American ideals has been duly charted. Above all the confusions, the failures, and the twisted notions, our real goals have been held high.

On this Thanksgiving Day, our gratitude should go to those who keep our dream of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness a vivid promise. Americans have demonstrated well that some among them will always speak when there is a tampering with freedom, a lapse from moral grace, a slackness in resourceful effort, a too great focus on selfish ends.

We can be thankful that this core of America is still secure. It is our assurance that, come what may, tomorrow is a day we can look to with hope in our hearts.

HOLIDAY HOSPITALITY NOT FADING

Where does the stranger within the gates spend his Thanksgiving and his Christmas?

It's a moot question because it is quite probable that there are, at present, more people in Warren who live in hotels, rooming houses, and other domiciles than ever before.

It is reassuring, too, to learn that the hospitality for which Warren always has been noted is not fading.

Within the past few days, a Times-Mirror reporter took pains to ask a few questions of men and women who are in Warren on more or less of a transient basis. Three Sylvania employees, each living in a rented room, had not only been invited to Thanksgiving dinner by the so-called landlord and his family, but also for Christmas.

Two young men who reside in the Y. M. C. A. dormitory need not be worried about. One of them has been invited to Lander for the entire week-end, the other has two invitations for Thanksgiving dinner and intends to accept both!

A certain young woman, employed in a secretarial capacity, has been invited home by her "boy friend," and it may be only the first of many holidays so spent as she's "going to meet the family for the first time."

One resident at the American Legion has had several invitations for dinner but is shoving off on a long week-end to spend Thanksgiving with his relatives on Long Island. Two others at the Legion have had several invitations each, and are already booked for Christmas and New Year's.

Of the perhaps 12 or 14 who were asked about their plans, not one is without a family table for Thanksgiving and Christmas. No need to go South to find traditional hospitality; it's right here in Warren.

Enjoy yourself tomorrow and plan to be on hand for the gala ceremonies incident to the turning on of the Festive Christmas Lights Friday afternoon. No issue of the Times-Mirror Thursday!

Yuletide buying will get under way in earnest Friday --- 27 shopping days before Christmas!

Here And There

The holiday shopping season starts just about a month earlier than it did sixty years ago, when The Warren Weekly Mirror printed its Christmas Edition December 19, 1891. The special edition was printed on a pinkish colored paper and the twenty pages carried many advertisements that make interesting reading today.

One paragraph noted: "In order to keep the pages of the daily to correspond with our Christmas edition we have cut them down two columns in size. We present subscribers of the daily with the Christmas number containing twenty pages. Extra numbers can be had by calling at this office."

Another paragraph says: "The dry goods stores of Warren will be open evenings until after the holidays. The city trade should come out in the mornings to avoid the rush in the afternoons, consisting of the trade expected from the rural districts in the afternoons."

The special edition carried advertisements inserted by local retail and other business places as follows: "The City Bakery," Woodard and Lesser, Nesmith and Knupp, Variety Hall, Pickett Hardware Store, Library Hall, C. P. Northrop, David Shear, The City Crockery Store, Hunter & Jarvis, Henry Willis, Billiard Parlor, E. V. Coleman, florist, Carver House, Mrs. S. J. Kennett, Siegfried & Co., Weavers Music Store, Burdett Gregory, A. Weiss, Samuels Brothers, N. Greenlund, Cousins Brothers, Warren Pharmacy, James Brann, Rogers & Hazel, Fine, S. Keller, Kopf & Henry, Jacob Keller.

Announcement if the special edition was made in the December 10, 191 issue which said:

The Christmas issue of the Weekly Mirror will be printed next week. It will be very attractive with a beautifully illustrated cover in colors and will contain twenty to thirty pages, and made in book form. A large number of extras will be printed and circulated. There will be no better advertising medium for the merchants of Warren at this season of the year and many of them have already availed themselves of this opportunity to inform the people of Warren county of the bargains that will be offered for the Christmas season. Those of our merchants who intend to place their ads and have not already done so should not defer the matter any longer as space allotted to advertising is being taken rapidly. There is no better time than now!

Here's an item that appears in the same issue that will interest many friends of the subject of the article:

The confirmation of the appointment of Mr. Willis A. Mitchell to be postmaster of Warren took place at Washington Tuesday. The correspondent of the Buffalo Express says: "The action of the senate today in at once confirming the appointment of Willis A. Mitchell as postmaster at Warren was a decided compliment, not only to the appointee, but to Mr. Stone, who recommended it. Usually, all such appointments are referred to a committee, and it takes from two to three weeks before confirmation is had." The appointment will give satisfaction to the people and Mr. Mitchell will undoubtedly make a good postmaster as he is a man of considerable business ability and experience. We understand that the new postmaster will take charge of the business on the first of January.

This 'n That: Speaking of bear meat, one of those Erie nimrods in town Monday evening with the carcass of that giant bruin, when asked about how to prepare it remarked, "Get your wife to cook it and after she starts, watch everyone get out of the house." . . . Santa has a date with the Retailers' Committee to assist in turning on the Festive Christmas lights Saturday afternoon and it is a foregone conclusion that a large crowd of kiddies and adults will be on hand to join in the welcome. . . . An outstanding Barbershop Chorus will be in the area Friday evening for a program privately arranged. . . . If you check your calendar you'll find there are but 27 more shopping days until Christmas, and they're the shortest of the year. . . . Dr. A. B. McCormick, retired minister residing in Warren, says that Hedgehog Run, the area where that big bear was brought down Monday, is his favorite trout fishing stream.

The muscle which works the wings of a bird is heavier than all other muscles of the bird's body put together.

Yugoslav Arms Aid Program Needs Close U. S. Supervision

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—(NEA)—The military aid pact just signed by the United States and Yugoslavia, under which Marshall Tito's anti-Soviet forces will get modern American weapons, points up a puzzle. It is: just how much security are the U. S., Britain and France buying in Yugoslavia?

Military planners at General Eisenhower's headquarters feel that Marshal Tito's forces are worth an investment. They were good guerrilla fighters in World War II. How good a modern army they may be is something else again.

Before the new pact was signed in Belgrade, Marshal Tito had said that he could take care of his forces on small arms and ammunition, but he wanted heavy artillery, tanks and planes from the United States. He wanted these arms without any strings tied to them and said he would make no concessions to the Western powers to gain their assistance.

But the aid he will get will have strings on it, because the pact provides for an American mission at Belgrade that will check on the use made of whatever materiel we give him.

There is another side to this question, however, from the U. S. viewpoint. There is a parallel of American experience in giving aid to Turkey. At the start of the Truman doctrine, the U. S. planned merely to turn over to Turkey tanks and heavy artillery, without supervision.

BUT it was soon found that Turkey had no road system capable of carrying gasoline and ammunition to the northern Turkish borders, to support mechanized forces. So the first requirement was to help the Turks build a modern road system.

Yugoslavia today has no road system capable of carrying heavy artillery, tanks or supply trucks. And while American-made automobiles dash madly about the streets of drab, Slav Belgrade, mechanics capable of repairing motorized military equipment are few.

It is now three years since Tito broke with the Russians. Last year Yugoslavia suffered from a severe drought. It may have cost the country as much as $100 million in loss of food export sales, as well as internal suffering which U. S. food loans helped to relieve.

All prices and all wages are paid in a complex system of coupons, bonds, and discounts. Tags on clothing and shoes in the store windows bear three prices—the full price in dinars, 55 per cent discount and 60 per cent discount.

TOURISTS have a supplementary currency in putniks, worth 50 to the dollar. They pay half the price in dinars and half in putniks. Americans stationed in Belgrade who abide by the official exchange rates find that eggs are worth 40 cents apiece, bread the equivalent of $1 a pound. There is inflation all over the place.

What all this seems to add up to is that the Yugoslav government and economy are in need of a thorough overhaul before they can be considered a good investment.

How successful the Tito government has been in its efforts to collectivize the farms is another great mystery. There has unquestionably been much local opposition. And Tito himself admits that there have been failures due to lack of machinery, bad planning, bad management and sabotage.

In spite of all these drawbacks, the resources of the country are admittedly enormous. There are rich farm areas like Iowa, copper, lead, bauxite, timber and other resources.

But without plenty of outside technical assistance and know-how, they face an almost impossible task. It would be no surprise to many on the spot observers in Belgrade if the economy collapsed, any day.

Cooties, Cootiettes Visit State Hospital

Thanksgiving was the theme of the monthly visitation of Hay Rake Pup Tent No. 40, Military Order of the Cooties and Cootiettes to veterans hospitalized at Warren State Hospital at 2 p. m. Saturday.

A highly entertaining program of entertainment was presented through the generous donation of time and talent by the following: Berdof Batty, vocalist who appeared at the V. F. W. over the weekend; Chuck Brown, novelty banjoist who was at the American Legion over the week-end; and a band composed of local musicians, LeRoy Johnson, Kenneth Johnson and Lloyd Van Tassel, who appeared under the auspices of Bradford Local No. 84, American Federation of Musicians. The band played many request numbers and also accompanied the show. Group singing also was enjoyed.

Pumpkin pie and ice cream were served and each veteran was presented with cigarettes, tobacco, snuff, candy, gum and magazines. The program was closed with group singing of "God Bless America" and group response with the Lord's Prayer.

Hay Rake Pup Tent No. 40 wishes to express its most sincere thanks and appreciation to the musicians, to the staff of the Hospital, and to all others who made the visitation possible.

"There were giants in the earth in these days." —Genesis 6:4

Our Pilgrim forefathers were magnificent in their accomplishments, their fearlessness and their independence. THEY bowed the knee to God alone.

WE need not hew a farm from the forest primeval, nor live hemmed in by pine and hemlock. But the heritage of independence and fearlessness is ours.

And so, we pay to our forefathers, who founded this Thanksgiving celebration, our profound respect.

Thanksgiving Prayer By a Korean

By HAL BOYLE
New York. (AP)—A Thanksgiving prayer by a Korean:
O Lord of our household, we thank Thee for the ripe persimmon, the golden gourd, the rice that has ripened in the paddies.
We thank Thee for the daughter that is here, the son that is still among us. We pray Thy help for the sons who are away.
On this day of bounty we also pray Thy blessing upon the quaint stranger among us—the American, and his friends. They surely follow their duty.
Dear Lord, it is hard to be a Korean in these days. There is the question of how we should turn. And no matter how we turn there is trouble.
We are, O Lord, as thou knowest, an humble farm folk. Our days are measured by the turning sun. The best reward we can hope for is good weather. When the grain ripens, we ripen. When the rice tumbles under storm, we falter.

Our hopes rise or fall with the growth in the fields. Such are we. No people to rise up and boldly change any other people's history—but one who has always been ready to rise to defend our own.
The Russians and their Chinese friends come down from the north to tell a Korean what a Korean should be. And from the south the stubborn Americans and their allies say what a Korean should also be.
It is all so confusing, bloody, and temporary. In this tangled international responsibility the average Korean would like to take time off, look at himself in the mirror—and see what he would like a Korean to be.
O Lord, our people is divided. We are unique in history. We are caught in a civil war—a war this side and that side of the 38th parallel. And we are also become an international testing ground of the weapons of outsiders.

But a people and a land must choose, O Lord. And on this day of thanksgiving, it is the mouth of South Korea that speaks Thy praise here.
Our faults are sores in Thy divine eyes. Our virtues are as snows before Thy suns. They melt, and they are humble.
Yet, O Lord, Korea must be our own Korea again. It was our fair land of morning calm for so long. It must be our fair land of morning again.
There was a time before the foreigners first came when a Korean, dying, was buried huddled in a hill slope that looked across a green paddy and a flowing stream to another hill beyond.
It was all Korea then. And that is the way it must be again. A Korean must have a place to die in—and to live in—that he can call his own.
He must, O Lord, have a land he can call—his chosen.
A loud belch by a dinner guest after a meal on the islands of Ball signifies that he thinks the food was satisfactory.

Monthly Meeting Of Library Board

Mrs. C. W. Beckley, vice president, was in charge of the monthly meeting of the Warren Library Association board of control, presiding Monday evening in the Pennsylvania room of the public library in the absence of President Wallace Cowden.

With several members in attendance at a special school board affair, a quorum of six library board members was present. Routine reports were read and placed on file. The librarian reported on her attendance, with two other staff members, at the Pennsylvania Library Association meeting held last month.
The Griscombe microfilm reader, purchased with the Wilder Fund, was on display and it was stated that 13 rolls of film are on order. This film is of old Warren newspapers.
Staff raises were authorized. After discussion of general business matters, the meeting was adjourned.

Union Thanksgiving Services Will Be Held This Evening
While two union Thanksgiving services have been planned for this evening in Warren borough, with the Warren County Ministerial Association as sponsors, most of the surrounding communities will observe a like plan in combining for a community period of worship.
The union service for the central part of town will be held in First Presbyterian church, Market street and Third avenue, at 7:30 o'clock, with Dr. Arthur Colley, First Methodist minister, delivering the sermon on the theme, "The Spirit of Thanksgiving". Also participating will be Rev. Frank Kehrl, presiding; Rev. David Carlson, giving the scripture reading and prayer; the Presbyterian choir, and the Rev. Roger D. Morey, giving the offertory prayer and pronouncing the benediction.
At the same hour in Salem Evangelical United Brethren church, the three parishes of that end of Penna. Ave., E. and Marion street town will gather to hear the Rev. George McGhee, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, preach on the topic, "In Everything Give Thanks". Rev. Francis Fehlman, pastor of the host church, will preside; Rev. John A. Borger will read the scripture and lead in prayer, and Salem choir will provide the music.
A cordial invitation is extended by the host churches and the Ministerial Association to all in the community to share in these pre-Thanksgiving worship periods.
Men Need Aid When They Do Gift Buying
Even during the Christmas season, there are rules about shopping. But it's the women who know them, not the men.
Men are abashed about shopping for women. They take the first large, economy size bottle of French perfume or the first black lace lingerie the salesgirl shoves at them. They know there must be something around in the stores that women like. But what, they can't imagine.
They need help. They need to know how to pick things that

But, Most of All, a Day to Give Thanks—
Thanksgiving thoughts have a way of turning to turkey and the trimmings, family reunions, the big football game or maybe a hunting trip. But think deeply enough of Thanksgiving and your heart tells you that this is a day to thank Divine Providence for the abundance that is ours. Let the true spirit of this great American holiday pervade the day. And whether it be in church, in our own homes or in the great outdoors, let us not forget to Give Thanks to God.
women won't exchange on Dec. 26 and they need to consider their wallets when they shop.
Costume jewelry is a good place to start. A handsome Maltese cross, for instance, looks expensive pinned at the neckline of a suit. But it costs little.
The same thing can be said for necklace, earrings and bracelet in twisted gold, tipped with Oriental spikes. And it holds true for a watch that flips shut like an envelope, slips readily into a handbag. It can double as a watch on a bedside table because it can stand upright.
Brunch coats and lounging pajamas are popular as Christmas gifts and with good reason. They're priced as reasonably as you like and they're the kind of gift any woman loves but hesitates to buy for herself.
Lounging pajamas in black velvet bemberg topped by a pink brocade coolie coat with tremendous sleeves are pretty and inexpensive. Mandarin collar, sleeves and jacket bottom are edged in velvet.
In 1231 the Golden Horde of Genghis Khan swarmed across the Yalu River in one of the first invasions of Korea. Since then Korean history has been marked by a series of invasions.

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Hershberger

"I thought perhaps the crowd would appreciate the human touch!"

It certainly does no good to lead a spade. South wins and leads his last club. If West wins, he must then lead hearts—and therefore might just as well lead the suit earlier. If West fails to take his ace of clubs, dummy wins. South ruffs a club, gets to dummy with the ace of hearts, and ruffs another club.

West saw all this very clearly without looking at the entire hand. The only chance to set the hand was to attack the hearts.

So West led a small heart, which rode around to South's queen. Now South could afford to lay down the queen of diamonds and lead his remaining club. Nothing could stop him from getting to dummy with the ace of hearts to discard a heart on the queen of clubs. East could ruff with his good jack of diamonds, if he liked, but the contract was safe.

LITTLE LIZ

Nowadays it's as easy to find a needle in a haystack as in a girl's hand.

West should have led the king of hearts. Dummy would have to win; and dummy would have to return a heart to South's queen for a club continuation. That would enable West to step up with the ace of clubs and cash the ten of hearts. East would eventually get a diamond trick to set the contract.

While you're chuckling at the champion's error, tell the truth. Would you have found this defense?

FISHING BY REMORA

The Chinese use the remora, or sucking fish, for catching turtles. A string is attached to the tail of the fish and it is released in the water. When it attaches itself to a turtle by means of the suction cut on top of its head, the fisherman pulls both up.

The bidding is a little peculiar in today's hand, but it's very hard to criticize it. All four players at the table have won several national championships, and if you'd like to tell them what palukas they are, you can find them at this year's nationals in Detroit during the first week of December.

As for myself, I would hardly cal any of the players a paluka but I would observe that North and South wobbled a bit as they reached the contract of three diamonds. What's more, West managed to fumble the defense.

West opened the ace of spades, about as good a choice as any, considering the nature of his hand. He continued the suit, and South won with the king of spades.

Declarer led a club, West played low, and dummy won with the king. Declarer next laid down dummy's ace of diamonds and led another diamond from dummy, finessing the ten from his hand. West won with the king of diamonds and had to find the right continuation.

Wise Ways on Gifts for Gals

See Christmas gifts for her look glamorous, are practical from woman's point of view. Robe (left) is budget-priced bemberg lined robe. Tiny evening purse (upper center) in bemberg made has own matching compact and lipstick and a small purse. These cross (upper center) is studded with colorful cabochons, is worn at the neckline. Necklace and bracelet (lower center) are in Far-Eastern mood of design. Black velvet lounging pajamas (upper right) have pink brocade coolie coat. Unique timepiece (lower right) folds like an envelope, can be used as watch for night-table. Every gift here will be useful long after the holidays.

Silver Is Coveted Gift for the Womenfolks at Any Time

Silver is a coveted gift at any time. It's attractive to look at, it's useful, it brightens any table, any room. And it is somehow especially pretty and shiny when it's from gay wrappings and on Christmas morning. If it's a fine sterling-silver-plated, it will look well, wear well, for many years. Versatile gravy boat and tray

This, by the way, makes a gift that's good for the career girl, the young married couple, or the older married couple.

In fact, it's a gift ideal for practically anyone but a small child. And children have their own silver gifts. One set is made up of a tiny fork and spoon set into slots in the wings of a brightly colored small plastic duck. Fork and spoon are designed for good balance and easy use by small hands. Both come in patterns to match adult silverplate.

Almost any household would welcome a pair of tall, slim table lighters in period styling. Useful any place in the house, they're particularly right on the dining-room table. It doesn't matter if no one in the house smokes since undoubtedly there are guests who do.

While you're Christmas-shopping for silver gifts, bear in mind the fact that there is no federal tax on any silver-plated flatware. That, in itself, is a help in clipping the corners on a budget.

The United States imports chromium from Africa, Cuba, Greece, New Caledonia and Oceania.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We were delighted to read the good news that our Warren Residents had responded to the call for Blood and had even passed the quota set by some pints. That is as it should be and we do not feel as the sacrifice they made should really be commended.

As true-American Citizens it is everyone's duty who can pass the examination to give and give gladly.

We even regret that the calls for blood had to be made on the phone, as well as on the radio and so often in the Press.

Where is our Patriotism anyway?

Why should anyone have to be asked to give when so many of our loved sons are fighting and dying to save our beloved land from the worst enemy that our Country has ever faced?

That Blood Center should have been surrounded by blood donors without any coaxing. In fact there should have been so many there that a stranger passing through would think a real bargain was to be had there and even perhaps wonder if it were nylon or a sub-branch of the New Process Sales.

What if you do get a little weak in the knees or a little sick at your stomach? These are only mere trifles to what thousands of our brave men are going through in Korea and in some other places. Every young man who has not yet been called into the Service should notice how gladly the Boys who were in the Second World War responded? This should put some of the ones who have never been called to shame.

Are we a selfish people? Yes it would seem so. Now we hope that no more phone calls will have to be made. That only a notice in the papers and a date given over the radio just when the Mobile will make its next appearance will be necessary to send our donors rushing as if there were indeed a real bargain to be had.

Just too bad if it would come to the place where the possible donors would have to be drafted as our Service Men are and we prophecy that if this terrible carnage goes on and on such will be the case. Does anyone think for a moment that we are not at war? Now get ready you folks for the next call for blood and no excuse except that your blood is not good.

CORYDON

Corydon, Nov. 20—Among 250 seventh grade pupils of Bradford Junior High School who visited the Corning Glass Works at Corning, N. Y., were five from Corydon: Nancy Adams, Sandra Caldwell, Emma Jean Zdanecvitch, Jimmy Pascarella and Glenn Ruth. The trip was sponsored as part of Educational Week.

The meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Corydon Methodist church took place at the home of Mrs. Verna Learn. Mrs. Bennett Putnam, president of the group, conducted the business session and in addition there was a party for the benefit of the organization. The hostess served refreshments.

Those present included Rev. and Mrs. DeForest Tennies, Kinzua, Mrs. J. K. Crooks, Mrs. Lewis Remington, Mrs. Crawford Marsh, Mrs. Edna Tome, Mrs. Ruth Crooks, Mrs. Fred Neely, Mrs. Gertrude Stryker and Mrs. Putnam. The next assigned hostess is Mrs. George Prue.

Mrs. Olive Fair was hostess to members of the Foreign Missionary Society of the church of the Nazarenes. A dinner and sewing occupied the time in conjunction with a birthday party honoring Miss Lena Schuler, devoted and long time member of the society. Miss Schuler was presented gifts and many congratulatory messages upon the pleasant occasion.

Routine business matters were conducted at the semi-monthly meeting of Corydon Grange members. Installation of officers is an event of the near future.

The Youth Fellowship group of the local Methodist church held its business meeting at the home of Diane Duntley. Sandra Caldwell, vice president, was in charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Frame are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, Saturday morning, in Bradford hospital. Mrs. Frame is the former Miss Tina Whyte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Whyte.

The benefit bazaar sponsored by the auxiliary to the Corydon fire department, Friday and Saturday, in the IOOF hall, was well patronized and declared a success. A number of local members chairmaned the affair and at the groups' regular business meeting that preceded the event six new members were taken into the auxiliary. Refreshments were served.

Members of the Corydon Afternoon Club met with Mrs. Grace Black. Three tables of 800 were in play. Awards were made to Mrs. Edna Tome, high, Mrs. Lida Wilcox, second, Mrs. Lottie Whyte, consolation.

Mrs. George Siebert has returned home after spending the past month in the state of Washington visiting her son.

Interesting Data Is Found In Old Farmer's Almanac

The Old Farmer's Almanac for 1952 is now on the newsstands and you might be interested to learn there will be four eclipses next year, which you won't see, a stormy winter coming up, Easter will be April 13 and how to make ham banana rolls with cheese sauce.

All that and more too is in the Almanac and many people swear by it. Actually the book doesn't go far wrong.

It was printed prior to this month so take a look at how close it hit the weather for November. Says the Almanac:

"November, 1951, starts off windy with cold rains, then with an Indian summer which will occur earlier in the month than its traditional date there will be a few mild days (sic). The week of the 13th to the 20th, however, will be blustery and contain at least one bad storm. After that expect clear weather for a week, followed by rain or snow." O. K.? Then let's check on December through March.

According to the Almanac, now in its 160th year, December will be cold, windy and with snow flurries until the 13th. From then on to the end of the month, rain and snow will alternate.

January will have one week of clear and cold—the last week. From the 1st to the 10th there will be snow, the 11th to the 18th fair and cold, the 19th to the 23rd overcast and dull with perhaps a thaw.

February: Groundhog day fair and clear on the 2nd meaning winter is but half over. Rain and snow will follow, then it will clear off, leading into a real cold spell from the 10th to the 17th. A blizzard will hit between the 18th and the 25th. Milder days will follow.

March: The first 10 days will be mild and dull. From the 11th to the 17th will come storms of wind, rain and snow. Cold and clear will follow from the 18th to the 25th and the month will finish fine and warm.

We won't be able to see the four eclipses, a partial eclipse of the moon on February 10, a total eclipse of the sun February 25, a partial eclipse of the moon August 5, and an annular eclipse of the sun August 20.

There will be four three-day week-ends in 1952, namely Washington's birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day. Here are some of the Almanac's list of holidays and the weather:

January 1, Tuesday, snow; February 12, Tuesday, cold; February 22, Friday, snow; May 30, Friday, misty; July 4, Friday, clear; September 1, Monday, clear; October 12, Sunday, clear; November 4 (Election Day), Tuesday, cold; No-

November 27, Thursday, storm; December 25, Thursday, rain or snow. The Almanac also lists the movable feasts and fasts of the Christian calendar. They are: Septuagesima Sunday, February 10; Shrove Sunday, February 24; Ash Wednesday, February 27; First Sunday in Lent, March 2; Palm Sunday, April 6; Good Friday, April 11; Easter Sunday, April 13; Low Sunday, April 20; Rogation Sunday, May 18; Ascension Day, May 22; Whitsunday, June 1; Trinity Sunday, June 8; Corpus Christi, June 12; First Sunday in Advent, November 30.

Winter will start at 11:01 a. m., December 22, 1951. Spring begins March 20 at 11:14 a. m. Summer starts June 21 at 6:13 a. m. Autumn begins September 22 at 9:49 p. m. The next winter begins December 21 at 4:44 p. m.

The Almanac also provides such information as the calendars for 1952 and 1953, a day by day report on weather, sunrise and sunset, length of the day, full sea, moon rise and moonset, an outdoor planting table, motor vehicle laws, fish and game laws, "anecdotes and pleasanties," the latest developments in agricultural science, several charades and puzzles, the principal holidays, activities of the planets, postal rates, tide corrections, weather table and recipes.

Oh yes, that recipe for, ugh, ham banana rolls with cheese sauce. Spread four thin slices of boiled ham with mustard. Wrap a slice of ham around each of four bananas. Brush the tips of the bananas with butter or margarine. Place the rolls in a greased shallow baking dish and pour the cheese sauce over them. Bake in moderate oven about a half hour. To make the cheese sauce, melt 1½ tablespoons of butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add 1½ tablespoons of flour and stir until smooth. Stir in ¾ cup of milk. Add 1½ cups grated sharp American cheese and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened.

Grange Discusses Future Activities

Plans for several events of the near future were discussed last night at the well-attended meeting of Warren Grange No. 1025 and the charter was draped for two recently-deceased members, Mrs. Alice Ladner and Edward Frank. The past masters' meeting in the Warren Grange hall on the evening of December 1st was discussed and announcement made that the guest speaker will be the master of the Pennsylvania Grange.

There was also discussion concerning the Christmas party to be held Monday evening, December 3, when members will exchange 50-cent gifts. Members were reminded the second December meeting will be omitted because of the carol festival at Besty school and other holiday activities.

For the evening's program, all joined in singing "America," followed by a reading, "Thanksgiving—1621-1951," by Vera Taft. A guessing contest was won by Margaret Johnson and Walter Taft, and a social hour with games and refreshments concluded the evening.

Electric Gifts Are High On Shopping Lists

Electrical gifts are high on the nation's shopping list every Christmas. It isn't just the initial pleasure they give; it's the knowledge that for many Christmases after they'll be making life easier and more pleasant.

New for shoppers this Christmas is an electric sheet that's both practical and pretty. Made of mercerized broadcloth in decorator colors, it has single or dual controls. It's washable and compact enough to pack easily in an overnight bag. The control case goes either on a night table or in a special metal hanger that clips to the headboard of the bed.

A brand new waffle baker, one with 81 square inches of griddle area, will bake four king-size waffles at a cooking. Any waffle lover will be won over by the grids, which require no greasing or breaking-in.

Further, there's a built-in batter rim to catch the overflow and prevent it from dripping onto the table top. The baker also has five automatically controlled settings that offer a choice of browning texture from light and tender to crispy and dark.

New, and medium-priced, is a portable radio that plays on ordinary house current or its own battery power. Constructed with a sturdy, enameled steel case with satin brass trim and a plastic cover in maroon or forest green, it has an automatic switch that turns the set on the moment the flip-up front cover opens. Control knobs are protected by the cover unless the set is in operation.

Small Offering Of Cosmetics Prove Pleasing

Few things please a woman more at Christmastime than small offerings of packaged luxury—the sort of thing she continually yearns for, but somehow never gets around to buying.

Fine cosmetics come under this heading, particularly for those women on your list who limit their own purchasing strictly to work-a-day make-up. For them, it's really femininity and glamor you're presenting when you choose a fine dusting powder, an exciting perfume, or an extravagantly-packaged lipstick.

For elegance-on-a-budget, you'd be sure to please with a richly-brocaded little evening purse that contains a small mirrored compact fitted with its own automatic powder puff. Lipstick fits into a brocaded loop at the top.

Designed also to make a woman feel cherished is a brocaded jewelry box which contains, nestled in the removable silk-lined tray, a selection of three purse-size perfumes. If you're seeking something in perfume that will grace her dressing table with magnificence, a new scent by a noted French perfume house is an excellent choice. The bottle, resting in a white satin niche, is patterned lavishly with gold leaf, contains a matching stopper laced with gold.
